Cardinals Take on Nardin-Simmons Team Here Sunday

Local baseball followers are assured of witnessing a high class performance Sunday when the Hamlin Cardinals take on the Nardin-Simmons University College team at the City Park here. The game is scheduled to start at 3:00 o'clock p. m.

Abilene management has promised to bring some of their best talent and if this is the case the local club will have to put on plenty of power, for the Collegians have some good ball players.

Cardinals, however, promised to have an improved lineup and the club is working out daily and the players are fast hitting their stride. The Cardinal management has announced that ladies will again be admitted free Sunday.

Hamlin Loses First Conference Game To Rotan 18-10

Rotan handed the Hamlin Pipers their first setback of the 5-A baseball season Tuesday at Rotan by whacking three Piper twirlers for 14 runs and an 18-10 triumph.

The win gave a 3-1 record in district competition, while the Pipers, defeated for the first time, have a 4-1 mark.

Bernard Weems was the big gun in the Rotan attack, blasting four hits in five trips, while Weldon Townsend, with four for six, topped the Piper batting list.

Buddy Fornes, although nicked for hits, weathered the storm for Rotan. Score by innings:

TEAM	W	L	Pct.
Hamlin	4	1	.800
Rotan	3	1	.750
Abilene	2	2	.500
Merker	1	2	.333
Snyder	1	2	.333
Colorado City	0	4	.000

Duane Brown Named On U of T Honor List

Report was received by The Herald this week that Duane Brown, Hamlin was among the members on son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of the honor roll in the University of Texas, Austin last semester.

He is finishing his junior year and is majoring in chemistry.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sampson of Hamlin are the parents of a daughter, Linda Kay, weighing seven and one-fourth pounds. She made her appearance at a local clinic April 18, Sunday.

A little daughter, Nancy Kathleen was born April 6 to Dr. and Mrs. Brandon White in Stephenville. The girl weighed six pounds. They have another daughter, Linda Diane, who is three years old. Mrs. White will be remembered as the former Estel Richardson of Hamlin.

A daughter, Linda Kay, weighing seven and one-fourth pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sampson, April 8, in a local clinic.

JOHNSON GRASS By W. H. Darrow

(Reprinted by Request)

Some years ago it came to pass
A bright guy sowed some Johnson grass.
Great claims were made for this new hay,
'Twould make our Southern farmin' pay.
Today when neighbors cuss and shout
It's Johnson grass they rave about.
It seems unjust to so defame
A grass that's lived up to its claim.
It's easy spread and easy sowed;
It's easy grazed and easy mowed;
It's only fault most folks agree,
Is runnin' on eternally.
The praise this honest grass once got,
Has turned to epithets that's hot.
Our editors to educate,
Head columns up: "Eradicate!"
It seems to me quite out of place
To damn a grass that's fell from grace.
This grass, sez I, don't mean no harm—
It just runs loafers off the farm.
The best of farmers cuss and shout,
But after all, they clean it out.
It holds the soil in firm embrace,
Until a real man gets the place.
A crop of hay as smart as that,
Just makes me bow and life my hat.

Record Number Attends Boy Scout Camporee

Record attendance marked the successful Boy Scout Camporee at the A. M. G. Swenson Ranch east of Stamford Friday and Saturday when more than 175 attended.

Scout Troops attending from Jones and Haskell Counties were as follows: Troop 44, Rule Baptist Brotherhood; Troop 49, Paint Creek School; Troop 36, Haskell Methodist Church; Troop 40, Stamford St. John Methodist Church; Troop 41, Stamford Rotary and Presbyterian Church; Troop 42, Stamford Exchange Club; Troop 54, Avoca School; Troop 46, Lueders Chamber of Commerce; Troop 22, Anson Lions Club; Troop 43, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Revival Meeting at the Church of Nazarene

REV. H. D. BURSON

The Church of the Nazarene announces a revival meeting to start next Wednesday evening, April 28, and to continue through May 9. Rev. H. D. Burson, who has been pastor of the Central Nazarene Church in Dallas for 14 years, will be the evangelist. His son, Ernie, will be in charge of the singing. Brother Burson is an outstanding minister of the gospel, and he will bring some prophetic messages that all will wish to hear. The pastor and all the people of the local church invites each and everyone to attend these services.

ERNIE BURSON

Obstructions Off New F-M Road

Work of removing the high lines and fences along the farm-to-market road from Boyd Chapel to Hamlin Lake has been completed, according to Commissioner Roy C. Brown and he said it was hoped that the highway department will place this road in the June letting.

Brown stated that he wished to personally thank those along the road for their splendid cooperation and that he wished to especially thank John Brown, Charlie Gregory and Bill Eysen for their work in getting the deeds signed in such a short time.

Funeral Services Are Conducted For L. K. Malone Wednesday

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, April 14 in the Methodist Church for L. K. Malone, 88, who passed away at his home east of Hamlin April 12 at 10:30 o'clock p. m.

Dr. Will C. House, pastor, Rev. J. T. Crawford, Rev. Dan Jones and Rev. Sam King conducted the services. He was preceded in death by his wife four years ago.

Surviving are his children: Mrs. J. J. McClure, Silver Dale, Arizona; Mrs. J. J. Rhodes, Southern Oregon; Mrs. Clarence Hyer of Hamlin; L. T. Malone, Phoenix, Arizona; S. L. Malone, Dallas; C. H. Malone, Fort Worth; 11 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Joyce Redus, daughter of W. R. Redus, and a junior at Texas Tech, Lubbock, has recently been elected to Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary society.

Lull, Chicago, Ill.

Some of the leading medical authorities of the United States will attend the 81st annual session of the American Medical Association at Houston April 26-29. They will discuss subjects of medical science in which they have won eminence. The eight distinguished guests represent such centers of medical learning as the University of Minnesota, Washington University, Mayo Clinic and University of Michigan. Dr. Lull is national secretary of the American Medical Association.

C of C Cooperating In Clean-Up Drive Of City Council

The Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the City of Hamlin in the Clean-Up Campaign requested by Mayor Holly Toler. Clean-up circulars have been distributed in the business district by the merchants and by the Boy Scouts, under direction of Harold Wheat, in the residence district.

Arrangements are being made to have a rat eradication campaign in connection with the Clean-up. This program is under the Typhus Control Division of the State Department of Health, and is free to cities and communities, with the exception of cost of poison and bait.

Burleson Attends Visitors Meeting at Naval Academy

Congressman Omar Burleson, recently appointed a member of the Board of Visitors of the U. S. Naval Academy, a body similar to the trustees of a university, has attended meetings of the Regents this week in Annapolis, Maryland, according to a report to The Herald.

Board of Visitors is comprised of four Senators, five members of the House of Representatives and seven persons appointed by the President. Among their duties they are to report upon conditions found at the Academy as to the curriculum, physical equipment and general state of morale and discipline and to recommend changes in methods or practices that may be considered desirable, together with any other matters relative to the Academy deemed advisable.

In view of present world conditions, Congressman Burleson, himself a veteran of the Naval Forces, is taking a particular interest in our armed services and in this capacity is in a position to serve directly in the building of our future Naval commands.

Frys Sell Limit Cafe to Collins

Mr. and Mrs. Loy D. Fry is taking a long needed rest after more than a quarter of a century in cafe business in Hamlin. Coming to Hamlin 28 years ago they became connected with the second cafe in Hamlin the, "Horse Shoe" then for a number of years they operated Fry's Cafe and for the past 15 years have been operating the Limit Cafe.

Mr. Collins, the new owner, needs no introduction as he is well known and liked and has many friends in Hamlin, invited all the old customers to visit him and he promises the same courteous service as in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry have no immediate plans but will not leave Hamlin other than for a visit.

Funeral Services Held T. A. Tucker Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Zion Chapel community church for T. A. Tucker, who died suddenly at his home 10 miles northwest of Merker Saturday morning. Tucker was born in Arkansas August 24, 1888, later moved to Jones County where he lived for 42 years.

Rev. W. D. Ramsey of Anson, Rev. Sorrells of Abilene and Rev. Hammer of Stith conducted the funeral services. Burial was in the Anson Cemetery under direction of Lawrence Funeral Home.

D. Mack Stewart visited his daughters, Miss Dannie E. Stewart and Mrs. George Archer in Paducah Sunday.

time and place specified, who will be glad to answer questions and give information in regard to the return of the bodies of their loved ones.

Hamlin Cardinals Take Two Games From O'Brien Nine Here April 28

Hamlin Cardinals took their first game under the lights Friday night at O'Brien when they edged out a 4-3 win over Sammy Johnston's club. The Cardinals got a total of seven hits off Dot Pitman and Lambeth, while O'Brien had to be content with three measly hits off young Brad Rowland in five innings and none off Horace Black in the last four frames. Only one error was chalked up during the evening.

Score by innings:

O'Brien	002	101	000-3 3 0

In a game here Sunday, Hamlin again defeated the O'Brien club by a lop-sided score of 17-5, the wild affair being largely due to a high wind with plenty of dust. Young Brad Rowland starting on the mound again for Hamlin held the O'Brien men in check for seven innings when he was relieved by McCoy, who finished the game. O'Brien used three men on the mound with only old Dot Pitman showing up with anything.

Score by innings:

O'Brien	000	001	301-5
Hamlin	421	020	02x-17

Batteries—O'Brien: Leach, Johnston, Pittman and King, Coody; Hamlin—Roland, McCoy, and Jenkins, Ford.

South American Here Visiting Hassen Home

Mrs. B. Hassen has had her brother, Selian Naime, whose home is in Venezuela, South America, as her guest this last week. He is visiting two brothers in Old Mexico this week.

It has been 24 years since Mrs.

Hamlin's newest business enterprise, "Nell's Studio," will be opened for business April 28, in the old location of Style Cleaners, one and one-half blocks west of the F. & M. National Bank, according to Miss Nell Steel, owner of the new establishment.

Very latest in modern photographic equipment has been purchased and first class work is guaranteed.

To introduce the work of the new studio special prices are advertised for the first 10 days.

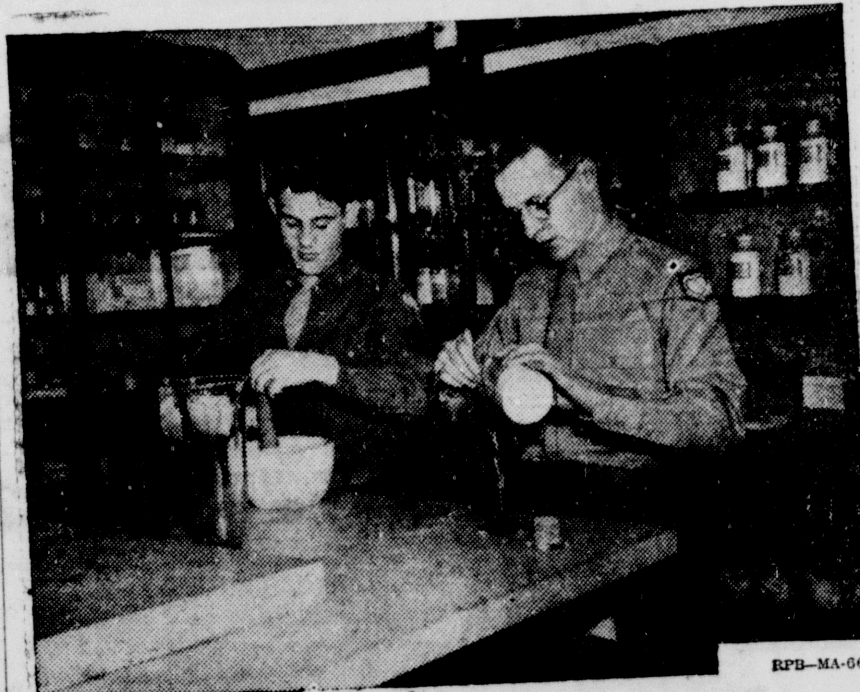

Miss Steel spent two years in the Navy and served as electrical instrument technician for the Navy in New York, Chicago and Pensacola, Florida. She was separated from the Navy in December, 1945 and enrolled in the Southwest Photo Arts Institute in Dallas where she took all the required training, graduating in July 1947 from the Standard, regular art school and April 9 of this year graduated from the advanced Post Graduate School.

She is living at the home of a sister, Mrs. G. T. Black and her husband.

T. E. Johnson of Plainview on his mother, Mrs. T. M. Johnson of Big Spring, spent a few days here with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johnson. They were enroute to Fort Worth to fish for a month or two.

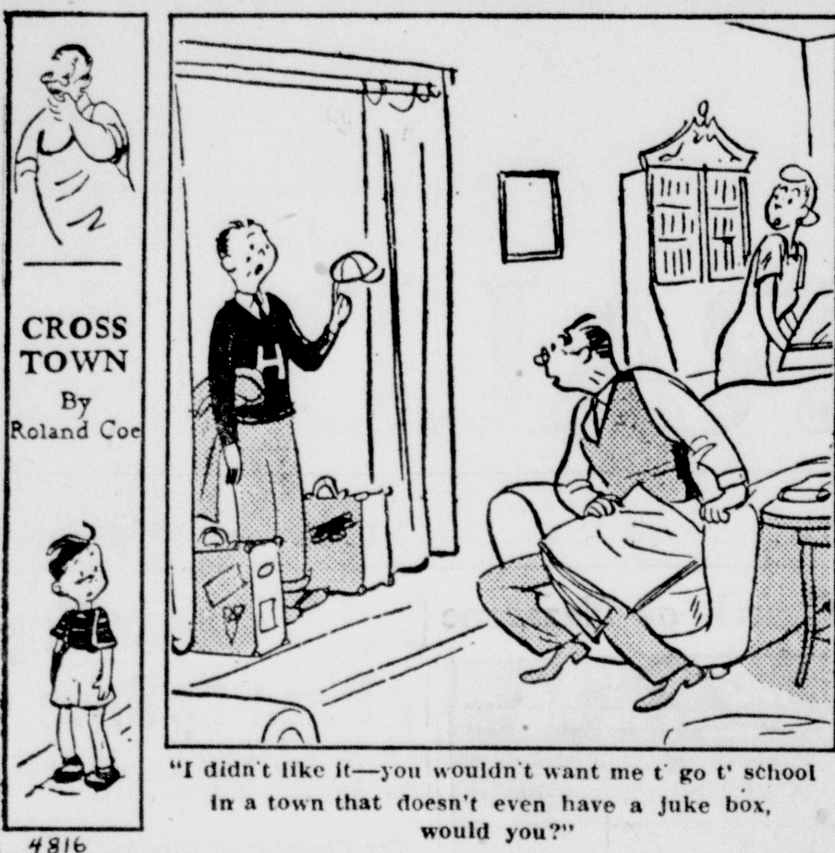

Hassen married and came to America with her husband, the late Ben Hassen, but she plans to return to her native Syria and see her mother and other brothers and sisters whom she has not seen since leaving that country. She hopes to make the trip in 1949.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

Mr. James Caesar Petrillo, Dear Jabez:—

Next to a daffodil poking its head outside my window, your recent announcement that you have made peace with radio is the most welcome event, but you will pardon me for looking for a catch in it. For some time I will keep fearing an explanation from you that it was all a mistake due to reading spring poetry or seeing a lambkin gambol on a green somewhere.

It could even be that, being a great judge of news values, you realized that any man taking a peaceful step anywhere today would be a global standout. You could even get the Nobel peace prize, who can tell? But, of course, your announcement has left the public reeling around the room expecting any minute to hear that John L. Lewis has quit the coal miners to play Little Eva in a Tom show and that Marshal Tito has resigned to raise pigeons.

Right in plain type it says that you have come out for an agreement with radio for three years, dropping all your recent demands, giving the stations the green light and that (excuse me while I see if my head is on straight) you "fully recognize the development stage of television and wish to help it grow."

I read it again, thinking maybe the word was "blow" or "go" instead of "grow." But there is no mistaking the word. You, James Caesar Petrillo, co-operating with radio! (Just a minute while I take some spirits of ammonia.) Well, Jimmy, I never have been knocked so groggy since Hitler decided he had been shooting the wrong people and Gargantua started playing with old tire shoes.

You wouldn't be holding a bass viol behind you with one hand while you offer the olive branch with the other would you, James?

No? So you are on the level! Okay, it comes as a great relief because I have not been able to enjoy radio music for years. When it was good I was afraid you would step in and interrupt it. When it was bad I was afraid you would not.

However, peace is peace and a little of it around somewhere should be deeply appreciated, so good wishes to all concerned and don't say it was something you ate.

Sincerely,

Elmer.

A General Quiz

THE QUESTIONS

1. Who invented that pole with which your grocer picks cans and packages from the top shelf?
2. What is the coldest place in the world on land?
3. Do birds sleep in their nests?
4. If you find a pearl in a restaurant oyster, is it any good?
5. How much can you see with your eyes moving?

THE ANSWERS

1. Benjamin Franklin.
2. Verkhoyansk, Siberia. The January temperature averages 50 degrees below zero.
3. Only when they are too young to leave them, though a mother bird might accidentally snooze while sitting on her eggs.
4. Probably not. Very seldom do pearls found in oysters by diners have any value. If the oyster was cooked, you can be sure the pearl is practically worthless.
5. Not a thing. You are stone blind when your eyes are moving in their sockets.

Senate Passes Bill to Give Aid to Schools

Hamlin area teachers and others interested in the progress of the schools were elated at the prospect of receiving new funds for schools with the passage by the Senate at Washington last week-end of legislation to authorize $300,000,000 of federal aid to the nation's grade and high schools each year.

The bill is aimed at more nearly equalizing the amounts spent for education throughout the country. It would authorize grants in the poorer states up to about $28 a year for each child of school age. No state would receive less than $5 a year for each child from five to 17.

The bill does not actually carry any funds. They must be voted in subsequent appropriations bills.

Lowest Carryover in 20 Years for Cotton

One of the lowest cotton carryovers in 20 years was forecast for 1948 this week.

Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor of cotton marketing, said one carry-over on July 31, the end of the cotton year, would be around 2,500,000 bales. The world supply of commercial cotton is also exceptionally low at 13,000,000 bales, Dr. Cox said at Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Howington and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodson of Stamford attended the funeral of T. A. Tucker in Anson Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Teague is in Dallas this week in interest of the Bryant-Link Company Dress Shop.

Cavness Urges Act to Make Car Drivers Liable

Hamlin area people showed concern this week in the statement by State Auditor C. H. Cavness at Austin when he urged Friday that Texas follow the example of 36 other states and enact legislation that would keep a reckless or financially irresponsible driver from behind the automobile wheel.

The recommendation for safety responsibility laws or compulsory insurance legislation was made to the governor and Legislature at Austin after a survey in connection with an audit of State Highway Department activities.

Massachusetts has a compulsory insurance law. The other 35 states have laws similar to the one proposed but not passed at the last session of the Texas Legislature.

Introduced by Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville, the bill would have required drivers to show financial responsibility to the extent of a minimum of $2,000 in case they were involved in an accident of major proportions.

Financial responsibility could have been shown by posting proper insurance, cash or property.

Cavness said reports of the National Safety Council show traffic authorities agree that driver responsibility laws, and others regulating drivers, serve an important function.

Cavness also pressed a recommendation that motor vehicle owners be required to present a receipt showing payment of ad valorem taxes on cars or trucks before issuance of licenses.

250,000 Telephone Employees
Are Buying Telephone Stock

They work for the telephone company and they are buying American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock through regular payments out of wages—in accordance with a special company offer.

All regular Bell System employees who had six months' service on August 31 were eligible to participate, except officers of A. T. and T.

More than 13,000 of these telephone men and women work for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

They have a stake in the business beyond their jobs. They are partners as well as employees.

These are the "capitalists"—hundreds of thousands of them throughout the United States—who help to make the telephone company a good company and America a great country. "It could only happen here."

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste.

Hamlin Garden Club Hosted by Mrs. Joe McCrary Friday

Hamlin Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Joe McCrary Friday, April 9.

Meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. W. J. Poe. Mrs. D. D. Harden was in charge of the program for the afternoon. She discussed "Border for the Garden." Mrs. Harold Bonner chose, "White Flowers in the Garden" as her subject.

Gifts of various plants were exchanged at the meeting and roll call was answered by giving names of shrubs common and botanical.

Mrs. McCrary escorted the guests and members throughout her new home. Twenty-two members were present.

Mary Martha Class Meets in L. Patterson Home Monday Eve

Mary Martha Sunday School Class of the Hamlin First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Lafay Patterson Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

Mrs. Delma Shelburne opened the meeting with a prayer. The class sang a song and Mrs. I. R. Hutchinson brought the devotional.

Ice cream and cake was served to the following attendants: Mmes. Russell Glenn, Henry Holloway, Cecil Brown, E. W. Gardner, Ernest Jenkins, Burnia Reid, Delma Shelburne, W. C. Russell, I. R. Hutchinson, A. G. Irwin, V. T. Stringer, John Walton and Lafay Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Arrington of Odessa visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huling and daughter, Dorothy Jean, Sunday.

Sue Jones Marries James W. Reynolds in Double Ring Ceremony Sunday Afternoon

Church of the Nazarene was the scene Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock p. m. for the wedding of Miss Sue Jones and James W. Reynolds in a double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dan D. Jones of Hamlin, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Reynolds of McCaulley.

Rev. Dan D. Jones, father of the bride, read the ceremony. Miss Odene Murphree sang, "Always" and "Because" preceding the taking of the vows. Mrs. Joe McCrary served as her accompanist and played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dan C. Jones of Lubbock, the bride wore a white gabled suit with a blue scarf, matching the color of veil on her white hat. Her accessories were white and for something old she wore a pearl necklace belonging to her mother, for something borrowed she wore a bracelet belonging to Miss Cleo Johnson, one of her bridesmaids.

The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white gardenia and pink carnation, the same color scheme carried out the decoration of the church.

Miss Bess Jones attended her sister as maid of honor and wore a similar suit of pink with white hat and accessories. Other attendants were: Miss Cleo Johnson of Artesia, New Mexico and Miss Roberta Reynolds, sister of the groom, wore dresses in pastel shades and carried nosegays of daisies and pink carnations. Roland Malick of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as best man. Ushers were: Milton and Ralph Johnson.

After the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride with only the wedding party and relatives attending. The wedding cake was cut by Miss Maine Callahan of Artesia, New Mexico. Mrs. C. A. Burnes of Lubbock poured.

Out of town guests included: Miss Bessie Shook, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shook, Pearl; Miss Cleo Johnson and Miss Maine Callahan, Artesia, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs.

Bert Reynolds and family and Mrs. John Reynolds and daughters, Clovis, New Mexico; Ennis Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shuttlesworth, Sudan; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Parloh, Moran; Mrs. Margaret Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Trigg, Mrs. Joe Baldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Baldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Malick and Mick and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis all of Lubbock.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Window Treatments in Home Pay Big Dividends in Cheer

By Ertta Haley

WHAT else that costs so little and still means so much can you do for a room than redecorate your windows? All other investments like new furniture, rugs or knick-knacks can run into a lot more dollars than curtains or draperies, and yet their effect is not as great.

You can achieve an absolutely new room with window treatments of various kinds, and if you have a lot of remnants plus imagination, you actually can redecorate with just windows alone.

If you can't embark on redecorating in a big way, see what a bit of fringe or ruffle will do! Or, re-dye some of your sheers for the kitchen or bedroom. You can even dye feed sacks for very little and make tiered curtains for kitchen or hall.

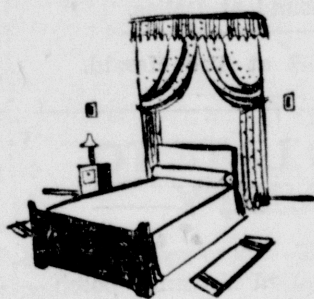

Take a critical look at the windows in your home and ask yourself these questions:

1. Do the curtains or draperies flatter the window and room?
2. Do they darken the light room or lighten the dark room?
3. Is the color flattering to the room and its contents?
4. Is the style in keeping with the general effect?

Ruffles Will Provide Cheery Effect in Room

Ruffles may be used in kitchen, bedroom, playroom, sun porch or an informal sitting room. If you have ruffles, and you want more for a more pronounced or cheery effect, they're easy to make and add to curtains you already have.

If you are using plain half curtains—let's say on the lower half of the window—add a narrow ruffle to the top of the window either in the same material and color as the curtains or in a contrasting solid or print of cotton remnant. Be sure you pick up one of the colors in the room when doing this.

If you have some windows without curtains, you can make the room less barren-looking by using a two-tiered ruffle at the very top of the windows. Make one ruffle of solid color and the other of a contrasting print. Here again, use colors you already have in the room.

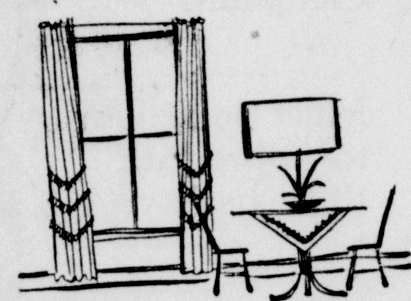

If you are using sheer curtains in some part of the house, you can add rows of ruffles to sheer panel curtains, tinting them all to the same curtain shade. This is an easy way to get expensive looking curtains that cost little more than time. You may use good portions of other sheer curtains for the ruffling.

For a window—usually a small one in the hall—where you want to shut out a poor out-of-doors scene, use solid color at the window and make several rows of wide, full ruffles.

Make Pretty Windows With Feed Sacks

Feed sacks, if dyed and pressed carefully, may be used for playrooms, children's rooms, bathroom or kitchen.

One way to do this is to dye them and stitch together for the necessary length, placing a ruffle at each seaming.

Another way is to dye them in several colors for a rainbow effect and seam together. The effect is so good that it quite belies its inexpensive origin.

Unusual Effects Possible With Use of Color

Here's a good idea for the living or dining room. If you have venetian blinds, dye the tapes and paint the venetian blind slats with one of the room colors. Dye the drapes a second color, and then use two sways at the top, one dyed to match the tapes, another to match the draperies.

A dramatic effect can be achieved by what is known as tie-dyeing. To do this, run basting stitches across the width of the curtain, dividing into four sections, the largest at the bottom. Pull up the thread and wrap around the curtain and tie tightly. In a dye-bath made up of one fourth of the dye, dye the entire curtain a very pale tint of the color you have chosen. Add a second fourth of the dye and hold the top of the section out of the bath.

Casual Gloves

White is always right for spring gloves and this year, white pigskins are being shown to go with suits for casual and street wear. Wearing a pert bowler and white "stock," this young lady completes her costume with white, finger-free pigskin shorties. These American-made gloves have black saddle stitching and a "V" opening at the wrist.

For the third fourth of the dye, keep the two top sections out of the bath. Add the remaining dye for just the bottom section.

Unusual Windows Benefit With These Tricks

If you have two small windows where the effect would be better with one large window, cover the separating area of the wall between the two windows with another drapery, hanging your swag over the center drapery, but under the two outside ones.

Make a small window look larger by hanging the draperies on the wall beside the window, leaving the entire window area exposed except for the frames.

Here's a lovely way to treat bay windows. Frame the bay window with a deep ruffle and two draperies only, using Priscilla curtains at each window. Dye ruffle and draperies to room color and tint the Priscillas one of the curtain shades.

Give your bedroom more depth by framing curtains at the head of the bed to make it appear as though a window were there.

Selection of Colors Plays Major Role in Renovation

In renovating your rooms for the spring and summer, selection of colors will play an important role. It spells the difference between a dull, lifeless room and one that is cheerful and livable.

There are three primary colors—red, yellow and blue. All others are formed by combining these three in varying degrees and by addition of black or white to darken or lighten the value.

To make a small room appear larger, utilize the cool or receding colors, such as the light blues, grays, greens, ivories and off-whites. The warm or advancing colors, such as red, terra cotta, rose, brown and tan, have the opposite effect, appearing to reduce the size of the room.

Rooms which are too large and appear to run away with the furnishings can be brought together by using big, over-scale wallpaper patterns in warm colors. On the other hand, small patterns in cool colors tend to "spread out" the walls.

Be Smart!

Two new ideas are sketched in the outfit here. High color contrast and a revival of the long linen coat are very new. The dress with its sleek mandarin collar and virtual sleevelessness is in mauve linen, while the coat is a rich green. The linen is, of course, treated for crush resistance.

Welcome the Crowd with Mocha Punch (See recipes below)

Good Refreshers

Versatile homemakers keep supplies on hand to prepare tasty refreshments for unexpected friends who may drop in for a visit or after a game of bowling or golf.

It's well to keep the cookie jar stocked for just such occasions. Another idea is to keep packaged ice cream in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator or the home freezer and your problem of what to serve is solved. There are any number of ways to serve ice cream with frozen, fresh or canned fruit, and, of course, it's wonderful to use in milk shakes, sodas, sundaes and coolers that can be prepared with little effort.

A large bowl of milk punch with ice cream floating on top will be a taste-tempting and satisfying drink to serve for a large crowd. Pass this with cookies or sandwiches made from items on the emergency shelf. Any large bowl may be used for the punch.

Mocha Punch (Serves 12)

- 1 quart chocolate ice cream
- 1 quart freshly-made coffee, chilled
- 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg

Chill coffee in refrigerator. To prepare punch, pour coffee into punch bowl, add half of the ice cream, salt, and stir until partially melted. Whip cream until stiff, add flavoring and blend. Fold in whipped cream and rest of ice cream. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg and serve immediately.

What about those easy to bake cookies at the last minute? Yes, refrigerator cookies are wonderful made just before serving because they take less than a quarter of an hour to bake. Have the dough ready for just such emergencies as this.

Butterscotch Refrigerator Cookies (Makes 50)

- 1/2 cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Work shortening or butter until light and fluffy. Add sugar gradually and cream until light. Add well-beaten egg and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients. Add gradually blending thoroughly. Shape into a roll and wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Cut in slices 1/8-inch thick and bake on sheets in a hot (375 degree) oven for 10 minutes.

Hermits (Makes 4 dozen)

- 3/4 cup lard
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together the lard and sugar. Add eggs, and then fold in flour which has been sifted with the spices. Just before all the flour

LYNN SAYS: Equipment Wears Better With Daily Care

Refrigerators should be defrosted at least once a week. Excess forming of ice can be avoided if you keep the door closed. Get what you need out of the refrigerator quickly to prevent air from entering.

The interior of the refrigerator may be cleaned with warm water to which is added a bit of baking soda. Never use abrasives on the enamel.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Beverage

is blended add the nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased or oiled cookie sheet about two inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot (375 degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Apple Butter Cookies (Makes 24)

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 cup apple butter or tart jam
- Granulated sugar

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and blend in alternately with buttermilk. Chill until easy to handle. Roll to an eighth of an inch thickness then cut with 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Put together in pairs with apple butter or jam in the center. Press edges together with a fork. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on greased cookie sheet about an inch apart and bake in a very hot (400 degree) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

If the crowd is hungry you can add some sandwiches to serve with the punch or milk shakes if you are entertaining a crowd of youngsters. Here are sandwiches easy to make with materials easy to keep on hand:

Deviled ham and cream cheese with lettuce on whole wheat or rye bread.

Egg salad alone or combined with sliced ham or tongue on wheat or white bread.

Peanut butter mixed with honey and chopped dates on toasted white bread.

Crisp bacon, crumbled and mixed with cold baked beans and chopped mustard pickle on white bread.

Cold canned chicken, chopped and mixed with celery, minced and green pepper.

Finely diced bologna with finely shredded cabbage, prepared mustard, salt and moistened with sandwich spread.

Cold meat loaf sliced thin and spread with chili sauce.

Dried beef, washed and minced, then mixed with cream cheese and seasoned with minced onion and a dash of horseradish.

Prepared Smithfield ham with cream cheese or chopped hard-cooked eggs or mayonnaise.

Ground leftover meat (pork, beef or ham roast) mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, grated raw carrots and mayonnaise.

Minced baked or cooked ham mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, and seasoned with a dash of dry mustard, mayonnaise and a bit of grated onion and Worcestershire sauce.

Deviled ham mixed with chili sauce and softened butter, spread on freshly toasted white bread.

Tuna fish and chopped olives, mixed with mayonnaise.

Peanut butter combined with orange juice and chopped dates.

Elevator Travel

Some 27 billion passengers yearly travel more than 241 million miles in elevators. About 5,000 new elevators went into operation in metropolitan areas throughout the United States in early 1948, at an estimated cost of 60 million dollars.

Shell Fish

Shell fish are very fine sources of protein, minerals and vitamins, and are shipped far inland. The mouths of clams and oysters should be tightly closed—or close immediately when touched—if they are alive and fresh.

To Save Towels

Mend snags or worn places in towels before they go into the wash to avoid further tearing. If the salvage shows wear, check fraying by taking several rows of stitches along the edge to strengthen it.

Try Lemon in Water—its good for you

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B<sub>1</sub> and P. They alkalize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

TRUE STORIES of WEST TEXAS

(By N. H. Kincaid, 2618 Victory St., Abilene, Texas—Copyrighted)

"THE DIE-UP ON STINKING CREEK"

Lige Carter, foreman of the T Diamond herd of Jones County, looked at the dead cattle in dismay. So many were there that for a fleeting moment he feared that his entire herd must have died during the night.

"Why, I had just as well have left them to die of the drouth," he muttered as she swung down to examine them better. "They have been poisoned, for sure," he continued, seeing their bloated sides and swollen tongues. "But what was it that poisoned some and not the others?"

There were 319. Swinging into his saddle he paused again to look over the horrible scene. They were piled thickest on the banks of the creek and some were even down in the water.

Turning quickly the rode back to camp, bewildered. John Bryan, his young boss and owner of the T Diamond brand, would need to be told. He was planning to leave for ranch headquarters this morning.

This was in July, 1885 and Central West Texas was faced with a most severe drouth. All creeks and surface water sources were drying up. The big cattlemen realized what was happening and had begun to brace themselves for the shock. Besides selling off rather heavily they had begun driving their animals to better pasturage—to the Panhandle, south to the Concho and even to Arizona. As yet the newcomers to the West—the farmer and the little stockman—seemed unaware of its real severity.

And thus had John Bryan, son of a cattle baron who continued to be affectionately known as "Uncle Wash" to everyone, decided to drive some 4,800 head of their T Diamond brand to the Stinking Creek community of Stonewall County. The drouth had struck lightly there.

But it was not until the two men had begun pulling the dead animals from the bed of the creek that they knew the answer to the riddle of the poisoning. The low water, stirred by the movement, had become chalky white. "Alkaline!" they exclaimed simultaneously. The first animals had stirred up the water to such an extent that the latter ones had drunk too much of it in that condition.

The drouth had not abated. The fear of the cattlemen became a reality and following the year of 1886 saw people throughout the country crying for rain and for food. In August, Governor Ireland issued an appeal for relief and the response was immediate. But the day of the big cattle baron was over. Henceforth his was a program of smaller herds and better strain; and the T Diamond was one of the first to lead out in this.

Lower Feed Grains and Hogs Exceptions To Generally Steady to Strong Markets

Lower hogs and feed grains furnished notable exceptions to otherwise generally steady to strong farm markets during the past week, according to a report received late this week from the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Wheat closed Monday little changed from a week earlier, but corn fell nine to 13 cents a bushel, oats and barley two to three cents and milo eight cents a hundred pounds. Monday's close of No. 2 grades found white corn $2.75 to $2.78, yellow corn $2.48½ to $2.50 1/2, oats $1.41 to $1.45 and milo $3.87 to $3.92.

Wheat millfeeds rose sharply, while meatscrap and tanlage fell $15 to $20 a ton. Alfalfa hay weakened and prairie hay remained dull as spring pastures improved. Peanuts held steady to firm. Wool contracting continued in Texas.

Hogs and sows lost 50 cents to $1.50 for the week at most Southwestern markets. Texas and Oklahoma terminals took good and choice medium weight butchers Monday at $20.50 to $21, while Denver and Kansas City paid $19.50 to $20.50. Sows brought $14 to $15 at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City and $13 to $14 at Wichita and Denver.

Cattle brought generally 50 cent to $1 more than a week earlier. Stocker and feeder classes showed less strength than other kinds at Houston and San Antonio. Medium and good stocker calves sold at $21 to $25 at Houston, $24 to $26.50 at San Antonio and $23 to $28 at Fort Worth. Oklahoma City moved stocker steers and yearlings largely from $23 to $26.25, while Wichita took medium and good light weights from $23 to $26. Denver paid $27.25 for fleshy feeder steers.

Lambs gained around $1 to $2 at Texas markets during the past week an even more at other Southwestern terminals. Elwes sold steady to $1 lower. Good and choice spring lambs brought $21.50 to $22.50 at San Antonio Monday and $22 to $24.50 at Fort Worth. Kansas City brought medium and good woolled lambs at $24.75.

Egg markets held about steady despite slight weakness here and there. Current receipts brought 37 to 40 cents at Dallas, Fort Worth and Denver and 40 to 45 cents at New Orleans. Hens and fryers held firm, with supplies about equal to demand. Roosters sold lower as the spring hatching season neared a close.

Cotton fluctuated widely, but closed Monday around $3.75 a bale higher than a week before. Spot middling 15-16 inch reached 38 cents per pound at Dallas.

NICE SAFES at The Herald.

Monopoly on Yellow

"Is there a monopoly on yellow?" a tired and disgusted homemaker asks after completing the messy task of mixing coloring into a pound of margarine.

Yes, Mrs. Homemaker, there is a monopoly on yellow. Through our own laws we have placed ourselves in the position of virtually prohibiting the use of yellow coloring by one wholesome food product, while allowing another to color itself without restrictions.

Here are the facts on the yellow monopoly:

To buy a pound of yellow margarine you pay the federal government a 10-cent tax. To sell you that pound of yellow margarine, the retailer pays an annual federal license fee of $48, the wholesaler $480 a year, and the manufacturer $600 a year.

In addition to these federal restrictions, there are laws in 23 states prohibiting completely the sale or manufacture of yellow margarine.

At the same time, the butter industry is allowed to color its product yellow without so much as indicating on the carton the fact that it is artificially colored. Such discriminations are unjust and un-American. It is unfair that the consumer should be penalized or prohibited from buying margarine—a wholesome and nutritious product of American farms—of Scurry County farms, moreover.

It is unfair that the nation's 1,500,000 cotton farm families and 450,000 soybean farm families find their markets so restricted.

It is to the credit of the 80th Congress that almost a score of bills have been introduced seeking the repeal of the anti-margarine laws and the removal of the monopoly on yellow. It will be to the lasting credit and benefit of the American people if through their letters and telegrams during the weeks ahead they give their congressmen and senators the support and encouragement essential to the removal of the margarine barriers this year.

Savings Bonds Are Safe

The time has come when people are actually wondering how they will spend their money nowadays. It is a tragedy that more are not pondering how they can save some of their earnings for the "rainy days" that are as certain to come as prosperity is here now.

Government savings bonds are still among the country's safest investments—in fact, they are as safe as the country itself. One's dollars are put up for years to come, and will earn interest at a steady, sure rate. Then they will be available 10 years hence when most of us will be needing extra cash probably, when the dollar no doubt will be worth much more than it is today.

The Times can think of no better plan of thrift for the youngsters of today, most of whom have some cash of their own. Tenets of saving for worse days instilled in the youth of today will teach them valuable lessons of economy, doing without and hedging against "hard times."

Every time you can, buy a bond. You'll be glad you did 10 years hence.

PRICE CONTROL NOT THE ANSWER

To this nation's consumers of low or moderate means, the high cost of food, fuel and other living necessities presents a problem which promises to get worse before it is bettered. An occasional cheaper price on some staple commodity affords some relief, but these exceptions to extravagant prices are too occasional to amount to much. Economic disaster, as some fear, may be the outcome of this inflationary climb but, even so the return of price controls demanded by some is not the answer to the problem.

Consumers who, under present uncontrolled prices, must do without many of their wants and needs because of inability to pay the current price, would still have to do without under ceiling prices which would drive the articles they desire off of the market.

The plain truth which the Washington powers attempt to conceal, and people of the United States need to face now instead of later, is that they cannot forever be bailed out of the penalties of their follies. They have had their dizzy dance of "spend and spend, tax and tax, elect and elect," and now that the piper is calling for payment, that payment will have to be sweated out—not run away from as is the purpose of price controls.

It is human nature to want to squirm out of the troubles they make for themselves, but it can't be done. As just one of the products and penalties of the socialistic, spendthrift policies pursued by the national government of late years, and applauded by the majority, the high prices from which all alike would like to escape, must be endured until relief through sane processes is secured. Artificial palliatives, such as price ceilings, serve only to delay the final reckoning to the continued upset of the national economy. If profiteers are aggravating a bad situation, the government has the duty and the means of dealing with them. However, the many obvious causes of high living prices leaves little guilt to be charged to probable profiteers.—The Florence Vidette

By LEON GUINN

Italy seems, at the moment, to be trying desperately to stem the Red tide before the April 18 elections in this strife-torn country, and Russian squabbling over Berlin has been, to a great extent, to impress the Italians (if this is possible). . . . If the Communists poll as much as 41 per cent of the votes in the Italian election we may look for plenty of trouble ahead, but if the forces of reason and conservatism lead the way then Russia will suffer a major setback in her foreign policies. . . . Russia has long since coveted the "boot" as a strategic point in the Mediterranean, and the moves behind the Iron Curtain reveal Russia expects Communist approval by Italy in the approaching balloting. . . . The Italian people, weary of betrayal and rape, have turned to membership in the Western European Union, and at present Italy is asking for revision of the peace treaty to permit recruiting a sizeable armed force. . . . Italy also would like to have trusteeship over at least one former Italian colony.

Although the Southwest is pestered more or less with dust storms, the overall world viewpoint for wheat is improving. . . . As a matter of fact, the European wheat crop has sailed through the winter in excellent condition, and Europe now has an indicated harvest better than in 1947. . . . France could possibly be self sufficient in wheat, and even Italy plans to reduce imports during the coming season. . . . In the intervening weeks Australia and Argentina have been exporting larger quantities of grains than in many years past; and Soviet exports by way of the Black Sea ports have increased on a substantial basis during the past few months.

Those bright boys of the lobby who have gloated over national tax relief may find their joy short-lived in event we become embroiled in another war. . . . President Truman warned the Congress and the nation that this year of reconstruction afforded no time for cutting taxes and adding still further to inflationary forces, but the Republicans were so "hog wild" they mustered votes right and left to override President Truman's veto. . . . In years ahead we are already hearing a lot of talk about fifty billions in government budgets to maintain American power; and of hiking (not lowering) the overall tax rate to carry such a heavy burden. . . . When it's all said and done, there will still be considerable trade between Eastern and Western Europe that will not be completely shut down. . . . Some type of compromise, it has hinted Wednesday, is already in the capitol hopper.

With our present "war of nerves" entering yet a second verse, a considerable amount of attention is being given Alaska, where we spent so many millions putting through the highway to Fairbanks, and where at present we have a skeleton garrison to maintain this important lifeline in case anything happens around the Aleutian Islands. . . . The rugged terrain of Alaska, plus its bitter weather, caused observers to agree this week that with a small force Uncle Sam can hold off the Russians, whose toe-holds come out into the Bering Strait, against the time when atomic bombs could finish such an unpleasant mission.

The old Democratic ship has been listing rather heavily the past few days, and about the latest "crew member" to announce intentions of leaving the ship is Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. . . . Truman aides, of course, deny firmly that Mrs. Roosevelt wanted to take a life boat, but news from reliable quarters indicates she tried to quit the job she had with the United Nations, but was persuaded at the last moment to stay on for at least several more weeks. . . . There is an indication that she may well follow her two sons in renouncing the Truman leadership before the Democratic convention. . . . Those who have joined the Henry Wallace camp say plenty will be stirring with Wallace before the Democratic "hook up" race for the presidential sweepstakes. . . . It is rather pathetic that Wallace, who has held a number of high governmental posts and who could never be satisfied with any of his jobs, came out this year to split voting as much as possible, when he could well afford to go back to his native corn country—his recent speeches have had a great deal of the undiluted variety all through his platform planks.

Margarine Taxes May Be Repealed By US Congress

Jones County cotton producers and those of the rest of the Cotton Belt were interested this week in the prediction by a key member of the House farm bloc at Washington that the federal margarine tax will be repealed at this session of Congress.

The member, who asked that his name be withheld, forecast that efforts by members from dairy sections to modify tax repeal by compromise action will be unsuccessful. The farm state representative observed that whatever action is taken at this session, the butter-margarine situation will not be affected.

He pointed out that present production of both butter and margarine combined does not equal the pre-war output, despite the fact that the production of margarine has doubled.

The difficulty is, he asserted, that there is not enough butter to go around.

"No matter what legislation we pass here, almost two-thirds of the people will still have to color their own oleomargarine because of state laws."

The House is expected to vote April 26 on the margarine tax repeal bill which was taken out of the hands of its agriculture committee by a petition signed by 218 members.

The legislation would repeal the one-fourth cent tax on uncolored margarine, the 10-cents-a-pound tax on colored margarine and the dealers' levies which are set at $600 a year for manufacturers, $480 a year for colored and $240 for uncolored for wholesalers; and $48 for colored and $6 uncolored for retailers.

Q—What causes limp and lameness in a flock of chickens, and how can this condition be eliminated?

A—This may be the nerve form of the avian leukosis complex, which can affect the nerves in any part of the body. However, it usually affects the nerves of the legs and wings and was originally described as fowl paralysis. The nerves in the legs and wings are affected to the point where the bird has no control over the wing or in walking. One may notice a lameness or limping and finally a complete inability of the fowl to stand. It may affect either one or both legs. We recommend removing chickens from the flock as soon as they show any symptoms of this nature. If they are still in good flesh they can be salvaged for food. At the present time the most reliable method of control and prevention is a program of selective breeding, isolation and sanitation.

Q—Can lack of a balanced diet cause breeding losses in dairy cattle?

A—Yes. According to J. W. Hibbs, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, under-feeding and insufficient vitamin A content in dairy rations may cause as many breeding losses as infections and malformations.

Jones County Oil Comes In With 2 No Shows, 1 New Location and 1 Abandon

A new Jones County wildcat was located to test for the Palo Pinto located about 25 miles west of Hamlin and was filed by the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

It is on permit for 4.50 feet with rotary and is the No. 1 Mrs. Eula L. Phillips, 1,774 feet from the south and 853 from the east line of most westerly 883.25 acres of section 333 Harrison County School Lands. Starting time was not set but it expected to begin operations within the next two weeks.

While five miles southwest of Hamlin the Roark, Hooker and Roark No. 1 R. W. Cooper et al, wildcat 1,400 feet from the west and 467 from the south line of section 198 block 1 BBB&C survey has been plugged and abandoned. It showed no shows to a depth totaling 5,214 feet.

At 23 miles southwest of Hamlin drilling was progressing below 3,167 feet with no shows reported since 2,501 on the Humble Oil & Refining Company, No. 1 Heke Propst, Strawn test. It is located 2,310 feet from the south and 1,250 from the east line of section 25 block 2 SP survey.

Twenty-two miles southeast of Hamlin Sojourner Drilling Company, Ltd., et al No. 1 Hazel Inez Young, wildcat to the Swastika was drilling below 1,400 feet and no shows reported. Located 330 feet from the north and west lines of the Young 80 acre tract in section 7 block 2 T&NO survey.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dean Redus of Pampa spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Redus. He is a resident engineer for Southwestern Electric Service Company there.

More REA Lines Promised in New Program of Loan

Farm families in the Hamlin area and other portions of the country who have waited for months or years for the REA line to reach their homes can now take fresh hope, according to a report received from Congressman George Mahon. Last week the House of Representatives at Washington by a vote of 199 to 154 passed an amendment providing for $175,000,000 in REA loan funds to become immediately available upon approval by the Senate and the president, which is expected within three weeks.

The House also has approved an additional $400,000,000 in loans for the REA to become available on July 1.

Mahon advises that this represents the most ambitious REA program ever undertaken in the history of the nation. Prospects are that abundant funds for the REA will be available for a period of at least one year. However, there will still be delays brought about by the inability of the REA office in Washington to process applications with sufficient speed and for the reason that abundant construction materials are not yet on the market. Fortunately, in recent weeks the material situation has definitely improved.

Mahon is a member of the appropriations committee and joined with other friends of the REA in Congress in the successful effort to provide additional funds. Such funds are provided in the form of loans to REA co-ops which are repaid with interest to the government.

Give Bossy a Schedule.

Milk cows are creatures of habit. Proper handling of cows on a regular schedule is the essence of good dairy management.

Another important thing to remember about the use of 2-4-D is that it is a fairly strong spray that "hangs on." Even if a sprayer is washed out after being used, it is possible to kill plants with 2-4-D while spraying insecticides some time later on. So the safest thing to do is have two sprayers—one for 2-4-D and one for insecticides. This way there will be no danger of injuring the plants when switching from 2-4-D to insecticides, Stanley explains.

Poisoning Weed Pests Opportune Now, Says Agent

Early spring is the season for kill, in gout loco, hoarhound, bull thistle and poisonous bitterweed with 2-4-D, says County Agent H. C. Stanley, through information supplied by Robert R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Uniform success on these has been reported by county agents over the state the past two years. The most complete kill is made by spraying when the plants are young tender and growing. Solution 2-4-D under any brand is the same, but its solution may be weak or strong, and the weak solutions need less water than the stronger concentrates. Stanley says directions for mixing and using the various brands are different, and may be found on their containers.

Formula 2-4-D will kill most any other weeds coming up this season of the year, Stanley explains. It makes a fine weed killer, but he warns to keep it away from gardens, flowers and ornamental shrubs because it will damage these plants severely, perhaps kill them out entirely.

WORTH KNOWING

Is there a cure for hog cholera?

There is no recognized cure for hog cholera, but outbreaks can be prevented through vaccination. Cholera usually spreads rapidly, and when it occurs some should be lost in calling a veterinarian.

How should lice on cattle be treated?

Insect killer is effective in controlling lice on cattle. Work the insecticide into the hair thoroughly.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Carries Fight to Communists As Congress Approves Foreign Aid; Income Tax Cut Becomes a Reality

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FOREIGN AID: In Motion

With President Truman's signature on the $6,098,000,000 foreign aid bill, the massive, potent forces of western capitalism moved into action against Russian communism for the beginning of a titanic, long range clash of strength.

To observers in the U.S. this interplay of forces had all the ingredients of an epic poem—the power of good striving mightily to overcome the power of evil, with the fate of a large segment of mankind depending on outcome of the struggle.

There was an epic quality, too, in the manner in which congress, seemingly impelled by a strong sense of urgency, raced the bill through for final action. The house approved it with a vote of 318 to 75 after less than 15 minutes of explanation, and the senate followed up swiftly with a voice vote.

Two days after passage of the measure President Truman meshed the gears of the global aid program by ordering the reconstruction finance corporation to advance 1.16 billion dollars at once. That action released U.S. dollars, reconstruction supplies and in some cases arms to 15 European nations, as well as Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China.

The overall $6,098,000,000 aid package includes 4.3 billion dollars for the European recovery program, 275 million dollars for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, 483 million for China and 2 million dollars for Trieste. All of it is aimed at areas where communists are sharpening their sword of aggression.

An ill-starred movement in the house to include aid to Franco Spain in the bill was defeated before it had time to do much damage to U.S. prestige and moral stature abroad.

As the aid started to move, the situation abroad stacked up something like this:

Russia's seizure of Czechoslovakia, its new pact with Finland and pressure on Scandinavian nations, the Soviets' arbitrary action in Berlin all pointed to the fact that Moscow was trying to bring about a showdown in Europe before the European recovery plan began to work effectively.

On the other hand, the rapid passage of the foreign aid measure, the proposal to return Trieste to Italy and the stiffening of American will in Berlin seemed to indicate that the U.S., while not forcing a showdown, was, nevertheless, willing to have it as soon as possible.

Few persons familiar with the situation thought that a showdown with Russia necessarily meant war. But it did involve acceptance of a risk of war. U.S. leaders were willing to take that risk on the theory that the likelihood of a shooting war is less now than it might be in the foreseeable future.

REDUCTION: Tax Measure

President Truman's veto of the income tax reduction bill was crushingly overridden by both houses of congress—311 to 83 in the house, 77 to 10 in the senate—and U.S. citizens sat back to gloat over the first major tax-cutting measure passed in nearly 20 years.

In his now characteristic "I'd rather be right than be president" role, Mr. Truman had stubbornly affixed his veto to the bill, protesting that it mainly would benefit persons with incomes of $5,000 or more, encourage further inflation and sap the nation's strength at a time of international "danger."

Examination of the new tax structure indicated that the President was right in his first contention, at least—that the law would be of greater benefit to persons with high incomes than to those in lower brackets.

Reason for that is that 12.6 per cent of $3,000 is considerably less than 5 per cent of a million. (Cuts in tax rates as provided by the new law range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest brackets to 5 per cent in the top level.)

Most interesting aspect of the tax cut development was the question of what motivated Mr. Truman to veto the bill. He was aware that enough members of both houses were supporting tax reduction in this election year to override his veto; hence, that his veto would be a gesture of futility that would place him on record as opposing the popular will.

Mr. Truman must have been aware, also, of the strong possibility

Who's Mad?

Nobody seemed to be mad at anybody when Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia and President Truman met at convocation exercises at William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., to receive honorary degrees of doctor of laws. Mr. Truman exchanged a cordial handshake with Governor Tuck, vociferous leader of the southern states' rebellion on the President's civil rights program.

that next year congress, safely through the elections, will boost federal income by reimposing some version of the wartime excess profit tax.

In view of these unpromising but inescapable realities, the President's veto of the tax bill simply did not fit the preconceived pattern of political action in an election year. Rather, it looked more like the deliberate driving of another nail in his political coffin.

In his veto message, Mr. Truman contended that increased defense and foreign aid measures might make it necessary for congress to raise taxes next year.

"In the case of the income tax," he said, "nearly 40 per cent of the reduction would go to individuals with net incomes in excess of $5,000, who constitute less than 5 per cent of all taxpayers."

Also, the President continued, while national income is high every effort should be made to reduce the size of the 253-billion-dollar public debt.

He was, beyond doubt, sincere in his objections, but they fell on deaf ears in congress.

APOLOGIA: From Russia

Even as Russia officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" British-Soviet plane crash over Berlin which cost 15 lives, plain people all over the world began to see more clearly how, although no nation is seeking war now, a war could start accidentally.

A pilot of a Russian fighter plane had buzzed a British plane, carrying 14 passengers, as it was landing in Berlin. The transport crashed in the Russian zone where the wreckage lay for 12 hours before the bodies were permitted to be moved.

Tension in Berlin eased somewhat when British officials accepted the Russian apology and canceled plans to assign fighter plane escorts to all air transports coming into Berlin.

The official British account of the crash quoted eyewitnesses as saying that the Russian fighter pilot was "frolicking" when he hit the big plane.

While the fighter pilot undoubtedly had not been ordered to harass the British plane, it was equally apparent that he and his cohorts had not been forbidden to do so.

Aside from the number of lives lost, the disturbing part of the incident is that it was, in a manner of speaking, an aggressive action, an overt act of deliberate provocation. And it is just such incidents as that that world leaders fear might one day touch off the conflagration.

Headliners

IN MANILA, P. I. . . . Ariston Almala, veteran of Bataan, received an army back pay check for 49 cents, promptly went insane and died.

IN GOSHEN, Ind. . . . Harold Tinsley, 9, wanted to do something for underprivileged children overseas, nobly turned over to the Salvation Army his entire hoard of bubble gum—561 sticks.

IN ARTESIA, N. M. . . . Conscientious city fathers were trying to figure out a way to keep absent-minded citizens from mailing letters in trash cans.

NEW START: China's Chiang

Hopelessly lost in the political and economic confusion of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the republic in one capacity or another since 1927, was casting about for a new role in the tragedy of the Far East.

Afflicted externally by Communist armies and internally by the venality of black marketeers and corrupt government officials, Chiang has been in the position of a man attempting to build a house on a pile of soggy refuse.

Now, however, there was a report out that Chiang had decided to quit the presidency of China. But there also were indications that, far from going into retirement, he would remain as Kuomintang strong man by becoming premier.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing party, said that the generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese communists.

According to latest reports, Chiang was urging that Dr. Hu Shih be elected president. Former ambassador to Washington, Hu Shih now is president of Peking university.

PALESTINE: Trusteeship

Studiously ignoring the groups and individuals who threw up their hands in horror when the U. S. reversed its position on partition of Palestine, this nation went right ahead with its avowed plan for a United Nations trusteeship of the Holy Land.

Disclosing some of the details of that plan, Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U.N., told security council members that the United States favors sending foreign troops to Palestine to keep order, if and when that becomes necessary, under the trusteeship formula.

Unmistakably implied, although not stated outright, was U. S. willingness to send American troops to the Holy Land, provided other nations would join the parade also. Another provision was that the number of nations supplying troops be specifically limited.

Actually, there was little optimism that the fratricidal strife in Palestine or the causes producing it could be effaced by the expedient of imposing a U.N. trusteeship.

NUMBER ONE Public Friend

Carl C. Countryman again wants to be President of the United States. With true political ebullience he has dubbed himself "American Public Friend Number One" and adopted a monolithic slogan: "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman."

That this near-palindromic tongue-twister is intended to strike sparks of devotion from the flinty hearts of American voters is apparent in Countryman's frank statement that: "My campaign must be for overwhelming publicity and an appeal to the imagination of the American people."

I have a lot of evidence that my slogan, 'Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman,' is doing the trick. Countryman is not a myth. He is not a hoax himself, nor is he trying to perpetrate a hoax through his presidency campaign. He is just a man, getting along in years now, who is serving the sincere belief that he could do better in the White House than the political figureheads in vogue.

Countryman opposes communism: "I want no part nor dealings with the Communist usurpers, who represent but a small fragment of the great Russian people."

Countryman opposes the military draft: "The draft is a subterfuge of incompetence. I favor making universal military training so attractive that it will be universal or approximately so."

Countryman's name will appear on no primary election ballots: "The gain inherent in such a course will not justify the necessary expenditure of time and money."

Countryman likes John Bricker of Ohio: "If I cannot get the nomination, I am all for Bricker. I should like to have the ticket Countryman and Bricker but if not, then Bricker and Countryman."

There is a truism which holds that universally present in the heart of every man is the belief that he could play Hamlet and run a newspaper. Countryman brings that deeply felt human motivation to the height of true nobility. For in his heart is the crowning belief that he also could be a good president.

Seek Uranium

Uranium—that most precious of all metals since advent of the atomic age—is being sought in Colorado now.

Department of the interior has set aside about 40 square miles of public land in the southwestern part of the state for exclusive use of the atomic energy commission, which will conduct an exhaustive investigation there for deposits of uranium, source of atomic energy.

Road to Paganism

THERE can be only one excuse for the complacency with which a vast segment of the people of this country view the spread of communism. They don't know what it is and they underestimate its danger to every individual and the ideology and way of life we have chosen for our own in these United States.

Hitler's fascism was a political theory. The communism of Marx and Stalin is not only political, it is a religion as opposed to the Christian religion as it is possible to imagine. Communism denies the existence of God; it denies the dignity of a man or of the family as the unit for which the state functions; it bars the practice of any Christian religion.

All of western Europe and the western hemisphere maintain governments and civilizations based on the Christian philosophy of Jesus Christ. Our own government is based on these precepts. If this philosophy of Christianity goes down, then this government goes down. And it is in grave danger—in danger because people do not realize the danger.

Pope Pius has recognized the danger to Christianity in denying the sacraments of their church to Catholics who profess communism, not because it is a political theory but because it is a religion which endangers the foundations of Christianity and Christian civilization as we know it.

Communism is the road back to paganism. There can be no inalienable rights of man under communism; there can be no just powers with the consent of the governed under communism; there can be no Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian Science or Catholic churches; there can be no free elections; no such philosophy as men being created equal. Most world leaders recognize only its dangers politically as moving relentlessly and aggressively to grab governments. Political and religious leaders who think, see communism breeding in hate and intolerance and capturing men's minds and souls as well as their political freedom.

The chances are that the first thing the 81st congress will take up when it convenes next January is an income tax law putting back on the books the taxes which this congress, as a sop to gain votes in an election year, took off. So if you don't have to spend that tax cut you received, save it and you'll have it to pay back next January.

Constitutional Rights

This column is not going to join the chorus of predictions that President Truman will not be renominated or that he will withdraw from the race for renomination. It would be like him to withdraw voluntarily if he believed the good of the country demanded it, but he will not quit under fire.

He offended some 1,500,000 Jewish voters perhaps, when he realized that it would take American boys to defend partition of Palestine, that we didn't have the men to send, that congress never would agree to it and that it likely would also bring Russian troops where this country didn't want them to jeopardize overall foreign policy.

He offended the governors and professional politicians from seven southern states when he upheld the constitution of the United States, his own party platform and decisions of the supreme court on civil rights.

The President thinks there should be an anti-lynch law, an anti-poll tax law as a requisite for voting, and a permanent fair employment practices law to prevent "unfair" discrimination. And he thinks that segregation or Jim Crowism should be eliminated on interstate transportation lines, not local buses or street cars. The supreme court has held that segregation on interstate transportation lines is unconstitutional. The Constitution outlaws the poll tax as a voting condition.

Again the Constitution says: "... No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of any citizen of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." That's pretty clear and takes care of lynching and unfair discrimination.

I sympathize with the people who oppose militarism in any form; but I do not accept as a valid syllogism: Militarism is bad; military training in America is militarism; therefore, military training in America is bad. Military training in Germany (the classic example) was the result of militarism, not its cause. Military training in America is no more related to German militarism than a hot dog is brother to a Dachshund.

The move to amend the Constitution with regard to presidential elections is gathering steam and direct vote of the people for president may become a reality. In addition to making the electoral vote of 331 electors proportional to ballots cast, there is sentiment to divide electors among states in the same proportion. For instance, Wisconsin and Georgia with almost identical populations have 12 electoral votes each. But Wisconsin casts a million more votes.

Electoral System

The world's largest herd of dwarf cattle recently reached Chicago—five cows and bulls totaling less than the weight of an average steer. Now I know where that steak I got last night came from.

Old songs are being revived, but there still are a lot of people who would rather hear "Beautiful Ohio" than "Missouri Waltz."

Washington Digest U. S. Has Best Opportunity To Enforce Peace in World

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

Once again we face the high cost of savagery—or preventing it—depending on how you put it. Billions more to run the government and the world, and to cover a stepped-up defense program. Talk of a 10 per cent increase in the budget for next year seems logical. As one cynic remarked, in the next war perhaps we ought to try to get on the losing side, and let the victors support us for a change.

Discussion of the details and cost of a selective service and universal military training program has been going on for some time. Sentiment against drafting husbands and G.I.'s seems to be crystallizing.

It would seem that G.I.'s might be fairly good material in an emergency without having to learn the general orders over again, and without having to reacquire precision in bringing the right hand smartly to the cap brim or lying down within a reasonable period before the arrival of a machine gun bullet.

As to the husbands—they aren't entirely expendable, of course—all of them. Probably the most effective thing congress could have done was to vote immediately for immediate registration for every one. The age brackets and exemptions, after all, could be settled later. If the emergency arises or even approaches—we can talk details. That is the kind of emergency we face, and no sacrifice would be too great to prevent it. Right now proof of our willingness to act is most important.

Contrary to the general assumption that all we need is a few push-button experts and professors of nuclear science, any war that might come from now on would require a more extensive mobilization of civilian as well as soldier than anything which has preceded it.

Meantime, there is a better chance to establish a solid and stable peace than there ever has been. The United States has a better opportunity to enforce peace than any nation ever had. We could, with comparatively small sacrifice, start a preparedness program to prevent the "imbalance" of power against us, as they say in diplomatic language.

In other words we could, without danger of actual conflict, since there is no power NOW (not tomorrow or next year, but NOW) strong enough to threaten us, establish a Pax Americana. And with the will to peace that exists in the world today, we could use that situation, not as the Pax Romana or the Pax Britannica was used—to create enemies—but to build an effective Pax Universa.

America, in its strength could well afford to yield sovereignty to an international force. A period of tranquility, enforced if necessary, is what the world needs; time to reflect. Rome and Britain did bring a long peace of sorts; we can establish a longer one—one long enough, perhaps, to build a permanent one.

The principle is simple—as a colleague of mine is fond of saying—"nobody tries to pick a fight with Joe Lewis."

Early statements were made to the effect that it would cost an additional 480 millions over what already has been budgeted for universal military training. We now spend 650 million dollars a year on cosmetics. And the total time used in applying them, according to my private statisticians, divided into manhours of military training, leaves a generous surplus for home-work.

I do not mean to treat lightly the world situation and the idea of a Pax Americana is not an empty one.

It is, in fact, the only kind of a peace we can be sure of until we have time to stabilize world conditions, until there is a fairer division of the bread, and the security in which to earn it and eat it; a cessation of the fear, suffering and anxiety which make men trade their heritage of freedom for the empty promise of protection at any price.

I sympathize with the people who oppose militarism in any form; but I do not accept as a valid syllogism: Militarism is bad; military training in America is militarism; therefore, military training in America is bad. Military training in Germany (the classic example) was the result of militarism, not its cause. Military training in America is no more related to German militarism than a hot dog is brother to a Dachshund.

The Australian government is anxious that Australian girls who married American servicemen return to Australia with their husbands. Some of the girls are anxious to return to Australia, period.

Farmers say egg prices are too low, considering the high cost of poultry feed. Which comes first: The chicken, the egg or the feed?

Value of the Little Fish

The little ones didn't get away! That is what Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug is explaining as he spreads the mesh of one of the 3-foot nets used by commercial fishermen of the New England coast.

"Fifteen million baby haddock that didn't get away," says Krug, who as interior secretary is likewise responsible for keeping a government eye on America's fish and wildlife, "would have been worth a million and a half dollars to New England's fishermen from March to mid-October of last year. They were caught in ordinary nets, killed and discarded."

If the little haddock had managed to get away, they probably would have grown up, been caught this year and sold by the same fishermen for a million and a half dollars.

This was one of the things I learned aboard the Albatross III, only floating laboratory possessed by the United States, which goes into service this spring. She started out as a regular commercial trawler, was drafted, transformed into a member of the coast guard's Atlantic patrol, discharged and now is equipped to do exactly the work commercial fishermen do, plus a lot more (by her crew of scientists) which will help the fishermen do better.

One of the tasks of the fish experts is to see if anything can be figured out which will save the wasteage created by catching the fish too young and thus preventing them from growing up to be caught and sold another year.

The mesh in the net in the picture is four and a half inches instead of the standard three-and-a-half measurement. Experiments have shown that use of the larger mesh saves 80 per cent of the under-sized fish, and does not reduce the size of the catch of the larger, marketable fish. But the commercial fishermen have to be shown.

One of the many tasks of the Albatross III is to prove by actual demonstration that this is true. It is a big job. And the department of the interior has a big man at the head of it. The dwarf in the photograph to whom Krug is talking (according to figures on my White House pass provided by the secret service) is 5 feet, 11 inches tall—and I am standing on my two feet, not kneeling.

Few Americans sipping their coffee, says Mid-America Information bureau, know that the berries from which it is made look a good deal like cherries. And for that matter, few Americans, sipping their Manhattan, say I, know that the cherries in them look a good deal like coffee berries.

Broke, but not beaten, a relic of the king that was, he is an even greater man today. His head may be bloody—but it remains unbowed. I have watched his drawn face, where anyone could see his inward suffering, as he autographed baseballs and score cards.

THERE are more shattered dreams, dislocated hopes and tragedies in a training camp than non-combatants could ever guess.

This is no sob story—no crying match. It is a true story affecting the future lives and hopes of many very fine young men—such as Charlie Keller of the Yankees. Keller is as clean and as fine a citizen as I ever have known. He was a top student at Maryland. He was a young star with the Yankees. He has known more than one bad break. He was just edging into the money when he was called to war service. Last season a growth on his spine cut him down.

Keller has been working desperately to get back. The old pain is gone. The suffering is over. But back muscles take time to mend. "I can hit the ball solidly," he told me, "but it doesn't go very far. I need time to rebuild those destroyed muscles. What about the future? Who knows? I can only hope."

There is Spud Chandler, nearing 40, a great pitcher with a great heart. The chunk they cut from his elbow is still a St. Petersburg exhibit. "I'm aiming at 15 wins," Chandler told me. "I won't be far away." Maybe. Maybe not. But here's a man's career hanging in the balance.

Tex Hughson of the Red Sox—one of the best. Chandler rated Hughson the best in the American League. Last year Hughson won 12 and lost 11. Not too hot. But he also had a sore arm that called for an operation.

How good will Hughson be this season? Who can say? Hughson in old-time shape can win the American League pennant for Joe McCarthy and the Red Sox. A wavering Hughson can bring about their defeat.

If you saw the Kellers, the Chandlers, the Hughsons and others on the borderline, at work, you could sense their background of tragedy or their hopes of better and brighter days. A job is pretty important when you have a wife and a few kids. I mean a job where you belong—a job such as these veterans and others deserve.

There happens to be more than you might know on the human side in a spring training camp, where men from 30 to 39 might be wondering what the next move will be.

Football Coaches

The new football season of 1948 already is under way, with the greatest coaching shift in history. There are new men at Yale, Harvard, Indiana, Navy, Michigan, Washington and Kansas, to mention only a few. They are all good men and those who have the best material will win. Those who haven't, won't.

The most distinct shift belongs to Herman Hickman who left Army for Yale. The poet laureate of the Smoky mountains, who as a fat country boy, reached stardom as a guard at Tennessee over 20 years ago, had no early dream that some day he would be head football man beneath New Haven's classic elms.

At West Point, Hickman became the best line coach I ever saw. He also became one of the most inspirational factors in all football.

No one can say just yet how Hickman will work out as a head coach in his first year. My guess is that the Smoky mountain bard will do a fine job with even fair material.

Even at football's middle age, Herman knows in advance that he can handle any man on his squad, physically. This was true at Army when he had Coulter, Folberg, Steffy and a few other brawny linemen. I've seen Hickman take them on two at a time with his amazingly active 300 or more pounds.

Hickman should make a fine head coach. He has been a great football player—and also a great fellow. Between seasons he can take over the chair of mountain poetry at Yale, in which his kinkfolk might figure.

The Great Bambino

There is a story marching the rounds that is beyond all telling. Its setting is deep in tragedy, but its outline is as brilliant as any rim of stars.

It is the story of Babe Ruth, suffering beyond all comprehension, yet valiantly retracing his path of nearly 30 years ago for the good of baseball, for the good of all kids and for the good of suffering humanity in general—whatever the cause may be.

It is the story of a man who is much greater nearing the trail's end of glory than he ever was hitting his 714 home runs, and giving a vast nation the greatest thrills that sport ever has known.

Babe Ruth has been my friend for over 30 years—a great guy, set in mammoth proportions of build, heart and appetite, especially when he was starring from 1914 through 1935 in the box, in the field and above all, at bat.

Broke, but not beaten, a relic of the king that was, he is an even greater man today. His head may be bloody—but it remains unbowed.

I have watched his drawn face, where anyone could see his inward suffering, as he autographed baseballs and score cards.

Cars on Road Hit Historic Figure

Number of passenger cars on the road in the U.S. today is at an all-time high, according to an article in the April edition of "Business Comment," bulletin of Northern Trust company.

This is true despite the fact that no passenger cars were manufactured for private use during the war, that an estimated average of 1.2 million passenger cars were scrapped or put into storage yearly during the same period, and that postwar production has not yet exceeded the best prewar years, the bulletin stated.

Latest available figures indicate a total of 27.5 million passenger cars registered in the U.S. on July 1, 1947, the article reported.

Some of the 75,000 ABC Pins Get Ready to Travel

Did you know that rules of the American Bowling Congress call for daily replacement of the bowling pins on its 40 tournament alleys? This means some 75,000 new pins are used in the course of the event. The practice assures that every team will compete under exactly the same circumstances. In the photograph above a girl is repacking a few of the discarded pins for distribution by Chevrolet truck to privately owned bowling establishments.

Admiral Halsey Says People Want No War

Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey said in Ottawa, Canada, Tuesday night that he is "by no means convinced that we must allow the international situation to develop into another full-scale shooting war."

The war-time commander of the Third Fleet said: "The free peoples of the earth fear the results of another war and are willing to go to almost any extremes to prevent it."

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Townley and daughter, Diane, visited Mrs. Townley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Wall in Seymour Sunday.

Mrs. Fed Britton and Lavern Weeks were in Abilene Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Darden of McCaulley were guests Sunday in the W. H. Pickron home.

Beans Substitute for Meat.

Dried peas can sometimes be used as a meat substitute, since they are high in protein and contain moderate amounts of the B vitamins and minerals. When used with potatoes, a green or yellow vegetable and milk, they make a complete and nourishing meal.

Housecleaning For Texas Communities Would Help Health

"A good old fashioned spring house cleaning in Hamlin and other communities in Texas would do a great deal toward furthering good health in this state," Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said this week in a release to The Times in urging all communities and cities in the state to cooperate in a general clean-up.

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include surface cleaning, drainage, the graveling of streets and alleys, the cleaning of all parks and playgrounds and the clearing off of weeds and rubbish from vacant lots.

"Destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage, the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning up of all premises will be," said Dr. Cox, "of inestimable value in helping to keep as dysentery, typhoid and poliomyelitis. Good community housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the state."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous diseases are filth-borne, and the only possible way to control them is to eliminate the insanitary conditions responsible for their spread.

Production Costs To Pinch Farmers Says Prediction

Department of Agriculture at Washington predicted last week-end that some farmers will be pinched this year by rising production costs and lower farm product prices.

It costs farmers more now than ever before, the agency said, to produce crops and livestock products. The margin between what the farmer gets for his products and what it costs him to produce them was said to be narrowing.

Items which will cost more than last year include fertilizers, land rentals, most seeds, real estate taxes,

Guest—"Well, good night. Hope I haven't kept you up too late."

tractors and other farm machinery, gasoline, fencing, bagging and other harvesting materials.

Farm wage rates are expected to continue near last year's record despite prospects of some improvement in both the supply and general skill of workers.

The department said the prospective increase in the supply of farm machinery will ease the general farm labor situation, particularly for farmers in a position to substitute machinery for labor. Farm machinery output is expected to top last year's record.

The FICTION Corner

EXCEPTION

By PAUL TULIEN

DOWN in the well, with no way of getting out and with little hope of rescue, Chris Thornton remembered the line he had written over and over in his copybook some 40 years before. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." He could fairly see the large round letters he had so laboriously formed with pen held stiffly in ink-smudged fingers.

The line had had little meaning for him then—just some words that he must write over and over until Miss Curry was satisfied. And Miss Curry had been hard to satisfy. Its meaning was brought home sharply to him now—when perhaps it was too late.

However, the former owner of the farm had let so many things about the place run down that he had time only to take care of what seemed most necessary. Undoubtedly, he thought ruefully, it would have been wiser to replace the rotten boards that covered the abandoned well, even though his cows might have stepped over a fallen wire to trample his promising corn.

All day he had been fixing fences, and coming home he had forgotten about the well which he could not see in the darkness. An ankle had been hurt in the fall—perhaps sprained or broken. It was swollen and painful, and probably would be worse by morning.

He struck a match and looked at his watch. Twenty to nine. Surely it must be later than that, for it seemed like hours since he had fallen. He held the watch to his ear; it was running now anyway.

Never before had a night been so unending. Snatches of sleep came at intervals, sleep broken by tortuous dreams in which he was forever climbing, yet never quite reaching the top.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

The farm lay in a lonely place and a car seldom passed over the grass-grown road. He had had few visitors during the months he had lived here. Lou Edwards, his nearest neighbor, had stopped in several times, but it was unlikely that Edwards would come again soon for he had little time for visiting since his last boy had left.

Thornton knew that a man could climb out of a well without a ladder by bracing his back against one side and getting a foothold between the stones on the opposite side. He had seen it done though he had never tried it himself. To try it now, when his foot was so painful he could not stand on it, was out of the question. "Should've busted my neck in instead," he muttered bitterly. "That would have ended the misery sooner."

The stars faded from the small circle of sky that he could see. Gradually light entered the well. Whining softly, his dog looked down at him; probably she had been sitting there all night, waiting for him to come up. If only there were a way to have the dog summon help. He might as well forget that. There wasn't any way.

He wished it would rain, for enough water might run down into the well to satisfy his growing thirst. Then too, Edwards might find time to come; his other visits had been made on rainy days. Might as well forget that too. It wouldn't rain.

Why did that copybook line keep looming before his eyes? Otherwise he never thought of things that happened so long ago. Of course, otherwise he had other things to think about—like worrying about the crops or planning something else. Such worries looked pretty inconsequential now. And unless he could get out of the well, there wouldn't be any more planning.

Thinking of the line made him think of the boys who had been his schoolmates and playmates in those long-past days—Tom, George, Cecil, Jimmy, Fred and many others whose names he could not even recall. Where were they now? He hadn't seen one of them for years.

Dimly their faces appeared out of the past, and then the line came bobbing back, blotting them out. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." Why couldn't the line stay away, he thought angrily. It couldn't do him any good now.

His dog began barking—at a squirrel maybe. Or was somebody coming? He shouted for help, hopefully at first, but as the minutes went by, despairingly.

The dog continued to bark. Probably at a squirrel, for there were many of them about.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Why Be a Negative?

There are some persons—too many, I am forced to declare—who live under the handicap of a personality that has a negative tinge.

In psychology we recognize them as a definite and an unpleasant group. We classify them. We name them. We call them negatives, and the disease from which they suffer—for it is really a chronic mental state of unhealth—we call negativism.

A person with a negativistic personality always is ready to argue the other side of the question. You make a statement. He says: "Oh, I don't know about that. Listen." And then the battle is on. For an exhibition of downright contrariness, the negativistics always are on hand.

They do not really know that their handicap themselves by this trait. To the contrary. They are proud of their bold, contrary attitude. They will tell you it is a sign of courage and strength will. All of which is piffle.

A negativistic tendency, far from being a sign of strong will and intelligence, is definite evidence of an adult who hasn't grown up and who is dumb in the bargain!

Dr. M. M. Reynolds, careful observer of human traits, made a study of negativism in babies. It begins to appear at the age of six months, he found. Then it gradually subsides. Intelligent children exhibit negativism less than dull children. Wherever it persists, it is a sign of deficient intelligence and a mind that won't grow up. And to have negativism is not a thing of which to be proud.

Closely akin to negativism is a commoner trait. We call it stubbornness. One-third of us are born stubborn, grow up stubborn, die stubborn—to the everlasting damage of our personalities. For like negativism, stubbornness is a sign of mental deficiency and inadequacy. The stubborn person isn't strong; he is merely weak; he is afraid that if he gives in, yields a point, he never again will be able to climb back to the same degree of vantage. Therefore he sits tight.

If you have negativistic or stubborn tendencies, don't give up heart. You can get over both. Just examine your own mental outlook. Do you find yourself taking the opposite side of questions? Do you find yourself holding your ground when there is no reason for it, no need of it?

Then guard against both these tendencies of yours. Watchfulness you must exercise. But you can win if you try. And you must win, because no negative, no stubborn personality was ever a successful, a likeable or a charming personality.

"Where are you?" some one called faintly.

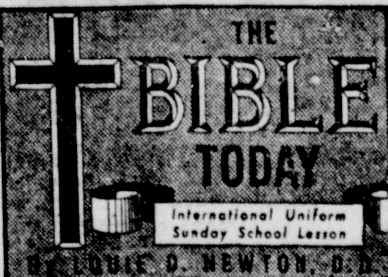

After the stranger had found a ladder and helped him out, Thornton said, "I should have fixed that long ago. 'Way back when I was in the second grade I wrote in my copybook about 'leven hundred times, 'NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY,' and I've certainly found out now how wise that is."

"I suppose that makes good sense always," agreed the other, "unless there's an exception to prove the rule."

"Well, if every rule has an exception, this was no exception, anyway," Thornton said, adding suddenly, "Say, how did you happen to come?"

"I represent the Valley Farmer. Your subscription has run out."

Thornton laughed. "There's the exception we were talking about. I got a letter from your paper a month ago asking me to renew. I've put off sending the money again and again, but if I hadn't put it off, you wouldn't have come today."

ZECHARIAH 1:1-6; 4: 7-8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 24: 1-6.

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

ZECHARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet. His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to summon the people to righteousness as a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes. The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you," Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God. The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the temple and restoring their life in Jerusalem.

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHARIAH reminds the people that the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 8:13. "What makes a nation great and strong?"

Not brick, nor stone, nor wood. But justice, love and brotherhood.

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple. The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him.

I like the phrase of the fathers, "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

By the Bible

If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity. —Daniel Webster.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Wife Should 'Ignore' Other Woman

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features

Keep a happy house with happy children in it. Cultivate a dozen things at home: flowers, games, hospitality for the children, books . . .

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

A HARD COURSE

Systematic and unflinching planning will help win back a husband who has strayed from his wife. A woman, beleaguered by a home-breaker of her own sex, will accomplish nothing with divorce threats, tearful pleadings and separation, cautions Miss Norris. The only remedy for a wife in these unenviable circumstances is to ignore the affair, pretty herself up and strive to be a sweet, interesting person. It is a difficult task which many have endured in their battles to retain that which rightfully belongs to them.

The story of Elizabeth Bates is a typical tale of the "rags to riches" variety. The gulf between Elizabeth and her husband is growing wider and wider and she frankly appeals to Miss Norris for aid.

"Perhaps Lee doesn't fully sense it, but she must, that I am ignored, I am left alone, I am sent brief messages that my husband must be here and there. It bewilders me. I can't fight back. I can't pretend that I too am having affairs I'm not. I don't want other men. I could be the happiest woman in the world. I am the most lonesome and sad. Once he needed me, life was one long joy together. Now he forgets me for days at a time.

"Then when Lee sold a piece of property destroyed by flood and no longer in a residential district, we went abroad for two marvelous years. Our expenses for those 25 months averaged $100 a month, and we came home with Michael thrown in for good measure.

Lee Joins Law Firm

"While Lee finished his law course, we lived in one room off a kitchen in a big house. I cooked and waited on table for our room and board, and Sheila came to join Michael, Lee and me. Sundays Lee washed the cars, raked the lawn, cut wood, and I worked in the kitchen from early morning until 10 at night. We saved money, and presently a fine law firm asked Lee to join it, and were we proud! I'd never finished high school but of course he had had just about 20 years of schooling.

"Well, then we had to stop with the domestic position, and we took a flat; managing wasn't so easy on one salary, and I began to sense even then what I know now so well, that I wasn't keeping up with Lee. His pay was small, but his firm thought the world of him, and he began to be noticed politically and to make speeches. Then—four years ago he was sent to a big convention as a delegate, and actually was nominated for state office. But the fine offer from St. Paul came then and we moved here.

"Now I have three children, 8, 6 and 3. We are prosperous. I have a good girl to help me. But Lee has left me behind. There is another woman; I think I always knew that there would be. But now that it has come, it is hard to take. She is handsome, rich, of high social standing and politically active. Lee and I are 31, she some six years older. She fascinates him, telephones him, takes him off to meetings, and they have dinner at some little place or on the train. She has been married twice, widowed once, divorced once.

"In an absorbed, contented, joyous sort of way ignore Lee and his affairs. Make yourself a sweet, pretty, interesting person. You would not be the first wife who won her husband back completely, and turned out to be the personality of the two. But before you win Lee, win yourself. Become your own ideal woman, mother, friend, citizen, and you'll find you're his ideal, too.

Asks for Advice

"Would threats of divorce, threats of naming her, be any good?" this disconsolate letter concludes. "Would you advise separation, and my going to mother in Memphis? Should I talk to the woman herself, and ask her to let Lee go? Which of these courses shall I take?"

Betty, don't take any of these courses. You have a hard bit of ground to cover, and have to remind yourself that you can't have everything in this world. You can't have youth, success, devoted husband, fine children, wealth—not all at once. You've lost Lee, yes; but it needn't be for long. My advice is neither for Lee nor for his new love.

It is for you. Keep a happy house with happy children in it. Cultivate a dozen things at home: flowers, games, hospitality for the children, books, drawing, knitting, radio, puzzles, cooking, raising kittens or pups or chickens for the market—whatever appeals to you. Dress prettily and picturesquely, in a fashion that sets you off. If you can, move to the country, expand physically as well as mentally.

Citrus Steaks on Order

Some day filets of lemon and orange steaks may be featured on dinner menus.

Leo K. Stone, a research chemist in Miami, Fla., has been working with orange and lemon seeds.

Next step, according to Stone, is perfecting a citrus seed meat substitute. It is still in the experimental stage, but Stone revealed that he already has progressed to the point where the seeds "smell like fresh baked bread."

POT-SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

By GEORGE DARDEN

Senior play at the school house last Friday night was a dandy play, good acting and a large crowd attended.

Visiting relatives and friends in McCaulley and Hamlin last week-end from Slaton were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Casey Jones and sons.

Mrs. Della Fancher has moved a house from her farm to town and will reside in McCaulley.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Dean and daughter from Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dean Sunday of last week.

C. W. Martin left last week-end for Fort Worth for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Dan Maberry returned to her home last Saturday after several weeks stay in Lamesa.

W. E. Maberry from Lamesa visited with relatives in McCaulley last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson from Abilene visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hentner at 3:00 o'clock p. m.

Dr. J. T. Bynum, pioneer, West Texas doctor and formerly of McCaulley and Hamlin, was visiting friends in Hamlin Sunday. Dr. Bynum is now a resident of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dick Jr. from Italy visited last week-end with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Dick, in McCaulley.

Miss Mary Callaway, teacher in the Sweetwater Schools, visited over the week-end with parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Callaway.

Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Short and daughter were luncheon guests in the home of the George Dardens Sunday. The Shorts are teachers in the McCaulley School.

Miss Velma Lou Boyd, teacher in the Coleman Schools, was home over the week-end and had as her guests several friends who are also teachers in the Clyde Schools and Abilene Christian College, Abilene students.

Motored up to Hamlin Sunday afternoon to see the Hamlin Cardinals take the O'Brien baseball team by a score of 15 to 5. Brad Rowland Jr. was the winning pitcher for Hamlin having allowed only three hits in seven frames. O'Brien used two pitchers but the Hamlin hitters were "socking" the apple and two of the long hit balls went over the fence. We understand that the Cardinals will play the Spurnine in the Hamlin Park Sunday afternoon, last Sunday.

Grain farmers are singing the blues in this part of the country, dry weather, sand storms and water hauling makes a fellow wonder where his summer wages went to.

Softball is getting started once again in McCaulley and the lighted field on the school ground will draw a lot of folks these long summer nights.

Mrs. Cleo Williams of Pampa will get The Hamlin Herald another year with the compliments of Mrs. Rufus Herbst.

McCaulley School will close May 21. Nine seniors will graduate from this year's class. Patsey Maberry is valedictorian and Margaret Darden is salutatorian of the Senior class. Seniors who plan to enter college next fall are Charley Lee and Margaret Darden who will enroll in Hardin Simmons University, Abilene. Patsy Maberry will enroll in McMurry College, Abilene and Jo Ann Hendon will enroll in Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

Cottonseed Treatment Pays Off Well In Increased Yields, Better Quality

If Jones County cotton growers are wondering about the advantages of cottonseed treatment, E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of Texas A. & M. College, has the answers, declares County Agent H. C. Stanley, who submits the following notes to The Herald for passing on the Hamlin area cotton growers:

Cottonseed treatment is an inexpensive form of crop insurance that costs only a few cents a bushel of seed. It kills the disease germs on seed, protects seeds and seedlings from diseases which may be in the soil and gives a better stand of cotton.

Texas' worst cotton seedling killers are angular leaf spot and soreskin. In the black lands of Texas angular leaf spot ranks next to root rot as the No. 1 hazard in cotton production. It is found in nearly all parts of the state.

Angular leaf spot generally shows up first on the seed leaves, and if a damp spell sets in after the seedlings come up, lots of them will die unless the seed was chemically treated before planting. This disease can also destroy some of the early buds on cotton plants, and thereby may prevent growth of early fruiting branches. Result: A reduced yield. Angular leaf spot also carries through to the older cotton plants, where it appears as angular spots on the leaves and as bacterial rot on the bolls.

The other serious cotton disease causes brown spots on the plants either below or near the ground level. While many plants may recover from soreskin, they are often late in developing—again causing a reduced yield.

At the Temple agricultural experiment sub-station, fuzzy cottonseed treated with either two or five per cent ceresan, give 25 to 30 per cent better stands than untreated seed. "Cottonseed Treatment," can be obtained at the Extension Service at College Station, or from County Agent Stanley at Anson.

The plants had one-third to one-tenth less angular leaf spot infection, and made an average of over 50 pounds more lint per acre than the untreated seed. Over long periods, experiment station tests have shown that chemically treated seed give four-year average yield increases of 25 per cent at College Station, 10 per cent in the Brazos bottom near College Station, 15 per cent at Temple, and four per cent

Veterans' News

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for the column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Q—After I have repaid the amount I borrowed under the G. I. Bill, is my loan guaranty privilege restored to its original amount?

A—No. You may use the full amount of your loan rights only once.

Q—Do the guaranty or insurance provisions of the G. I. Bill limit the total amount that I can borrow?

A—No. The size of the loan depends on what the lender is willing to lend. The limitation is on the amount of the VA guaranty and not on the size of the loan.

Q—I was refused an application for a loan by one lender and now would like to know what I should do to get a guaranteed loan on a business venture?

A—The VA regional office in your area might be able to put you in touch with a lender who makes G. I. loans.

Q—May a veteran obtain a guaranteed loan to buy or establish a business if he is employed?

A—Yes, if he plans to conduct the new business himself, either on a full-time or part-time basis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Duncan and children visited E. W. Moore in Santa Anna Sunday.

IN MISERY HALF THE TIME, BLESSES RETONGA

Suffered for Years From Gas On Stomach, Indigestion, Restlessness, Muscular Aches and Pains; Mother of Eight Wants Others to Know About Retonga

"No one knows better than my husband how much Retonga has helped me," declares Mrs. Ed D. Unnelley, well known resident of FD No. 2, Ohatchee, Alabama, whose husband has farmed on his present homestead for 50 years. The mother of eight children, Mrs. Unnelley gratefully states:

"I was in misery half the time from sour stomach and indigestion. I often felt like gas was pressing against my chest so hard I had to gasp for breath. I couldn't seem to sleep sound. I had to take strong purgatives like salts to get relief from sluggish elimination. I was on edge most of the time. Muscular aches and pains ran through me like darts. I felt so run-down I was cross with myself for complaining so much. I always got up feeling worse than when I went to bed.

"Retonga was truly a blessing and a relief to me. I eat anything now and my food seems to give me the strength and energy I need. I sleep fine and no longer depend on harsh laxatives for relief from sluggish bowels. I feel easy after meals and am not bothered with excessive gas. The muscular aches and pains are relieved, and I have regained much of my lost weight."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at WAGGONER DRUG STORE.

Cardinals Take on Hardin-Simmons Team Here Sunday

Local baseball followers are assured of witnessing a high class performance Sunday when the Hamlin Cardinals take on the Hardin-Simmons University Collegians of Abilene at the City Park here. The game is scheduled to start at 3:00 o'clock p. m.

Abilene management has promised to bring some of their best talent and if this is the case the local club will have to put on plenty of power, for the Collegians have some good ball players.

Cardinals, however, promised to have an improved lineup and the club is working out daily and the players are fast hitting their stride. The Cardinal management has announced that ladies will again be admitted free Sunday.

Hamlin Loses First Conference Game To Rotan 18-10

Rotan handed the Hamlin Pipers their first setback of the 5-A baseball season Tuesday at Rotan by whacking three Pipers for 14 runs and an 18-10 triumph. The win gave a 3-1 record in district competition, while the Pipers, defeated for the first time, have a 4-1 mark.

Bernard Weems was the big gun in the Rotan attack, blasting four hits in five trips, while Weldon Townsend, with four for six, topped the Pipers batting list.

Buddy Fornes, although nicked for hits, weathered the storm for Rotan.

Duane Brown Named On U of T Honor List

Report was received by The Herald this week that Duane Brown, Hamlin was among the members on son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of the honor roll in the University of Texas, Austin last semester. He is finishing his junior year and is majoring in chemistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Jenkins visited Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Waters in Wheeler and Mrs. Tom McClaron at Childress Sunday.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sampson of Hamlin are the parents of a daughter, Linda Kay, weighing seven and one-fourth pounds. She made her appearance at a local clinic April 18, Sunday.

A little daughter, Nancy Kathleen was born April 6 to Dr. and Mrs. Brandon White in Stephenville. The girl weighed six pounds. They have another daughter, Linda Diane, who is three years old. Mrs. White will be remembered as the former Estelle Richardson of Hamlin.

A daughter, Linda Kay, weighing seven and one-fourth pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sampson, April 8, in a local clinic.

JOHNSON GRASS
By W. H. Darrow

(Reprinted by Request)

Some years ago it came to pass
A bright guy sowed some Johnson grass.
Great claims were made for this new hay,
'Twould make our Southern farmin' pay.
Today when neighbors cuss and shout
It's Johnson grass they rave about.
It seems unjust to so defame
A grass that's lived up to its claim.
It's easy spread and easy sowed,
It's easy grazed and easy mowed;
It's only fault most folks agree,
Is runnin' on eternally.
The praise this honest grass once got,
Has turned to epithets that's hot.
Our editors to educate,
Head columns up: "Eradicate!"
It seems to me quite out of place
To damn a grass that's fell from grace.
This grass, sez I, don't mean no harm—
It just runs loafers off the farm.
The best of farmers cuss and shout,
But after all, they clean it out.
It holds the soil in firm embrace,
Until a real man gets the place.
A crop of hay as smart as that,
Just makes me bow and life my hat.

Hamlin Cardinals Take Two Games From O'Brien Nine

Hamlin Cardinals took their first game under the lights Friday night at O'Brien when they edged out a 4-3 win over Sammy Johnston's club. The Cardinals got a total of seven hits off Dot Pitman and Lambeth, while O'Brien had to be content with three measly hits off young Brad Rowland in five innings and a drone off Horace Black in the last four frames. Only one error was chalked up during the evening.

Score by innings:
O'Brien 002 101 000-3 3 0

In a game here Sunday, Hamlin again defeated the O'Brien club by a lop-sided score of 17-5, the wild affair being largely due to a high wind with plenty of dust. Young Brad Rowland starting on the mound again for Hamlin held the O'Brien men in check for seven innings when he was relieved by McCoy, who finished the game. O'Brien used three men on the mound with only old Dot Pitman showing up with anything.

Score by innings:

New Photographic Studio Will Open Here April 28

Hamlin's newest business enterprise, "Nell's Studio," will be opened for business April 28, in the old location of Style Cleaners, one and one-half blocks west of the F. & M. National Bank, according to Miss Nell Steel, owner of the new establishment.

Very latest in modern photographic equipment has been purchased and first class work is guaranteed.

To introduce the work of the new studio special prices are advertised for the first 10 days.

Miss Steel spent two years in the Navy and served as electrical instrument technician for the Navy in New York, Chicago and Pensacola, Florida. She was separated from the Navy in December, 1945 and enrolled in the Southwest Photo Arts Institute in Dallas where she took all the required training, graduating in July 1947 from the Standard, regular art school and April 9 of this year graduated from the advanced Post Graduate School.

She is living at the home of a sister, Mrs. G. T. Black and her husband.

T. E. Johnson of Plainview an his mother, Mrs. T. M. Johnson of Big Spring, spent a few days here with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johnson. They were enroute to Fort Worth to fish for a month or two.

Hassen married and came to America with her husband, the late Ben Hassen, but she plans to return to her native Syria and see her mother and other brothers and sisters whom she has not seen since leaving that country. She hopes to make the trip in 1949.

Revival Meeting at the Church of Nazarene

REV. H. D. BURSON

The Church of the Nazarene announces a revival meeting to start next Wednesday evening, April 28, and to continue through May 9.

Rev. H. D. Burson, who has been pastor of the Central Nazarene Church in Dallas for 14 years, will be the evangelist. His son, Ernie, will be in charge of the singing.

ERNE BURSON

Brother Burson is an outstanding minister of the gospel, and he will bring some prophetic messages that all will wish to hear.

The pastor and all the people of the local church invites each and everyone to attend these services.

C of C Cooperating in Clean-Up Drive Of City Council

The Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the City of Hamlin in the Clean-up Campaign requested by Mayor Holly Toler. Clean-up circulars have been distributed in the business district by the merchants and by the Boy Scouts, under direction of Harold Wheat, in the residence district.

Arrangements are being made to have a rat eradication campaign in connection with the Clean-up. This program is under the Typhus Control Division of the State Department of Health, and is free to cities and communities, with the exception of cost of poison and bait.

Burleson Attends Visitors Meeting at Naval Academy

Congressman Omar Burleson, recently appointed a member of the Board of Visitors of the U. S. Naval Academy, a body similar to the trustees of a university, has attended meetings of the Regents this week in Annapolis, Maryland, according to a report to The Herald.

Board of Visitors is comprised of four Senators, five members of the House of Representatives and seven persons appointed by the President. Among their duties they are to report upon conditions found at the Academy as to the curriculum, physical equipment and general state of morale and discipline and to recommend changes in methods or practices that may be considered desirable, together with any other matters relative to the Academy deemed advisable.

In view of present world conditions, Congressman Burleson, himself a veteran of the Naval Forces, is taking a particular interest in our armed services and in this capacity is in a position to serve directly in the building of our future Naval commands.

Frys Sell Limit Cafe to Collins

Mr. and Mrs. Loy D. Fry is taking a long needed rest after more than a quarter of a century in cafe business in Hamlin. Coming to Hamlin 28 years ago they became connected with the second cafe in Hamlin, the "Horse Shoe" then for a number of years they operated Fry's Cafe and for the past 15 years have been operating the Limit Cafe.

Mr. Collins, the new owner, needs no introduction as he is well known and liked and has many friends in Hamlin, invited all the old customers to visit him and he promises the same courteous service as in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry have no immediate plans but will not leave Hamlin other than for a visit.

SPECIAL DELIVERY
Mr. James Caesar Petrillo,
Dear Jabez:—

Next to a daffodil poking its head outside my window, your recent announcement that you have made peace with radio is the most welcome event, but you will pardon me for looking for a catch in it. For some time I will keep fearing an explanation from you that it was all a mistake due to reading spring poetry or seeing a lambskin gambol on a green somewhere.

It could even be that, being a great judge of news values, you realized that any man taking a peaceful step anywhere today would be a global standout. You could even get the Nobel peace prize, who can tell? But, of course, your announcement has left the public reeling around the room expecting any minute to hear that John L. Lewis has quit the coal miners to play Little Eva in a Tom show and that Marshal Tito has resigned to raise pigeons.

Right in plain type it says that you have come out for an agreement with radio for three years, dropping all your recent demands, giving the stations the green light and that (excuse me while I see if my head is on straight) you "fully recognize the development stage of television and wish to help it grow."

I read it again, thinking maybe the word was "blow" or "go" instead of "grow." But there is no mistaking the word. You, James Caesar Petrillo, co-operating with radio! (Just a minute while I take some spirits of ammonia.) Well, Jimmy, I never have been knocked so groggy since Hitler decided he had been shooting the wrong people and Gargantua started playing with old tire shoes.

You wouldn't be holding a bass viol behind you with one hand while you offer the olive branch with the other would you, James?

No? So you are on the level! Okay, it comes as a great relief because I have not been able to enjoy radio music for years. When it was good I was afraid you would step in and interrupt it. When it was bad I was afraid you would not.

However, peace is peace and a little of it around somewhere should be deeply appreciated, so good wishes to all concerned and don't say it was something you ate.
Sincerely,
Elmer.

Senate Passes Bill to Give Aid to Schools

Hamlin area teachers and others interested in the progress of the schools were elated at the prospect of receiving new funds for schools with the passage by the Senate at Washington last week-end of legislation to authorize $300,000,000 of federal aid to the nation's grade and high schools each year.

The bill is aimed at more nearly equalizing the amounts spent for education throughout the country. It would authorize grants in the poorer states up to about $23 a year for each child of school age. No state would receive less than $5 a year for each child from five to 17. The bill does not actually carry any funds. They must be voted in subsequent appropriations bills.

Lowest Carryover in 20 Years for Cotton

One of the lowest cotton carryovers in 20 years was forecast for 1948 this week. Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor of cotton marketing, said one carry-over on July 31, the end of the cotton year, would be around 2,500,000 bales. The world supply of commercial cotton is also exceptionally low at 13,000,000 bales, Dr. Cox said at Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Howington and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodson of Stamford attended the funeral of T. A. Tucker in Anson Sunday.

Cavness Urges Act to Make Car Drivers Liable

Hamlin area people showed concern this week in the statement by State Auditor C. H. Cavness at Austin when he urged Friday that Texas follow the example of 36 other states and enact legislation that would keep a reckless or financially irresponsible driver from behind the automobile wheel.

The recommendation for safety responsibility laws or compulsory insurance legislation was made to the governor and Legislature at Austin after a survey in connection with an audit of State Highway Department activities.

Massachusetts has a compulsory insurance law. The other 35 states have laws similar to the one proposed but not passed at the last session of the Texas Legislature.

Introduced by Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville, the bill would have required drivers to show financial responsibility to the extent of a minimum of $2,000 in case they were involved in an accident of major proportions.

Financial responsibility could have been shown by posting proper insurance, cash or property.

Cavness said reports of the National Safety Council show traffic authorities agree that driver responsibility laws, and others regulating drivers, serve an important function.

Cavness also pressed a recommendation that motor vehicle owners be required to present a receipt showing payment of ad valorem taxes on cars or trucks before issuance of licenses.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Sue Jones Marries James W. Reynolds in Double Ring Ceremony Sunday Afternoon

Church of the Nazarene was the scene Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock p. m. for the wedding of Miss Sue Jones and James W. Reynolds in a double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dan D. Jones of Hamlin, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Reynolds of McCaulley.

Rev. Dan D. Jones, father of the bride, read the ceremony. Miss Odeen Murphree sang, "Always" and "Because" preceding the taking of the vows. Mrs. Joe McCrary served as her accompanist and played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dan C. Jones of Lubbock, the bride wore a white gaberdine suit with a blue scarf, matching the color of veil on her white hat. Her accessories were white and for something old she wore a pearl necklace belonging to her mother, for something borrowed she wore a bracelet belonging to Miss Cleo Johnson, one of her bridesmaids.

The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white gardenia and pink carnation, the same color scheme carried out the decoration of the church.

Miss Bess Jones attended her sister as maid of honor and wore a similar suit of pink with white hat and accessories. Other attendants were: Miss Cleo Johnson of Artesia, New Mexico and Miss Roberta Reynolds, sister of the groom, wore dresses in pastel shades and carried nosegays of daisies and pink carnations. Roland Malick of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as best man. Ushers were: Milton and Ralph Johnson.

After the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride with only the wedding party and relatives attending. The wedding cake was cut by Miss Maine Callahan of Artesia, New Mexico. Mrs. C. A. Burnes of Lubbock poured.

Out of town guests included: Miss Bessie Shook, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shook, Pearl; Miss Cleo Johnson and Miss Maine Callahan, Artesia, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs.

Bert Reynolds and family and Mrs. John Reynolds and daughters, Clovis, New Mexico; Ennis Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shuttlesworth, Sudan; Mr. and Mrs. Davis Parloh, Moran; Mrs. Margaret Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Trigg, Mrs. Joe Baldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Baldrige, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Malick and Mick and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis all of Lubbock.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Window Treatments in Home Pay Big Dividends in Cheer

By Ertta Haley

WHAT else that costs so little and still means so much can you do for a room than redecorate your windows? All other investments like new furniture, rugs or knick-knacks can run into a lot more dollars than curtains or draperies, and yet their effect is not as great.

You can achieve an absolutely new room with window treatments of various kinds, and if you have a lot of remnants plus imagination, you actually can redecorate with just windows alone.

If you can't embark on redecorating in a big way, see what a bit of fringe or ruffle will do! Or, re-dye some of your sheers for the kitchen or bedroom. You can even dye feed sacks for very little and make tiered curtains for kitchen or hall.

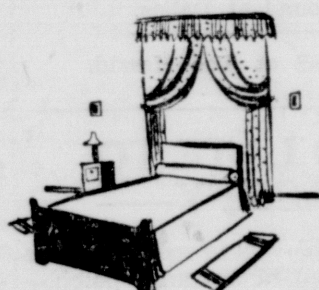

Take a critical look at the windows in your home and ask yourself these questions:

1. Do the curtains or draperies flatter the window and room?
2. Do they darken the light room or lighten the dark room?
3. Is the color flattering to the room and its contents?
4. Is the style in keeping with the general effect?

Ruffles Will Provide Cheery Effect in Room

Ruffles may be used in kitchen, bedroom, playroom, sun porch or an informal sitting room. If you have ruffles, and you want more for a more pronounced or cheery effect, they're easy to make and add to curtains you already have.

If you are using plain half curtains—let's say on the lower half of the window—add a narrow ruffle to the top of the window either in the same material and color as the curtains or in a contrasting solid or print of cotton remnant. Be sure you pick up one of the colors in the room when doing this.

If you have some windows without curtains, you can make the room less barren-looking by using a two-tiered ruffle at the very top of the windows. Make one ruffle of solid color and the other of a contrasting print. Here again, use colors you already have in the room.

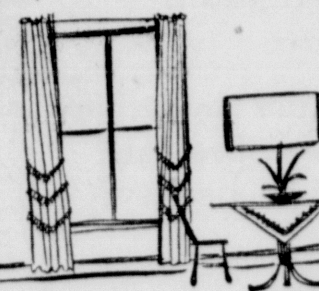

If you are using sheer curtains in some part of the house, you can add rows of ruffles to sheer panel curtains, tinting them all to the same curtain shade. This is an easy way to get expensive looking curtains that cost little more than time. You may use good portions of other sheer curtains for the ruffling.

Make Pretty Windows With Feed Sacks

Feed sacks, if dyed and pressed carefully, may be used for playrooms, children's rooms, bathroom or kitchen.

One way to do this is to dye them and stitch together for the necessary length, placing a ruffle at each seaming. Another way is to dye them in several colors for a rainbow effect and seam together. The effect is so good that it quite belies its inexpensive origin.

Or fringe them for decoration.

Unusual Effects Possible With Use of Color

Here's a good idea for the living or dining room. If you have venetian blinds, dye the tapes and paint the venetian blind slats with one of the room colors. Dye the drapes a second color, and then use two sways at the top, one dyed to match the tapes, another to match the draperies.

A dramatic effect can be achieved by what is known as tie-dyeing. To do this, run basting stitches across the width of the curtain, dividing into four sections, the largest at the bottom. Pull up the thread and wrap around the curtain and tie tightly. In a dye-bath made up of one fourth of the dye, dye the entire curtain a very pale tint of the color you have chosen. Add a second fourth of the dye and hold the top of the section out of the bath.

Casual Gloves

White is always right for spring gloves and this year, white pigskins are being shown to go with suits for casual and street wear. Wearing a pert bowler and white "stock," this young lady completes her costume with white, finger-free pigskin shorties. These American-made gloves have black saddle stitching and a "V" opening at the wrist.

For the third fourth of the dye, keep the two top sections out of the bath. Add the remaining dye for just the bottom section.

Unusual Windows Benefit With These Tricks

If you have two small windows where the effect would be better with one large window, cover the separating area of the wall between the two windows with another drapery, hanging your swag over the center drapery, but under the two outside ones.

Make a small window look larger by hanging the draperies on the wall beside the window, leaving the entire window area exposed except for the frames.

Here's a lovely way to treat bay windows. Frame the bay window with a deep ruffle and two draperies only, using Priscilla curtains at each window. Dye ruffle and draperies to room color and tint the Priscillas one of the curtain shades.

Give your bedroom more depth by framing curtains at the head of the bed to make it appear as though a window were there.

Selection of Colors Plays Major Role in Renovation

In renovating your rooms for the spring and summer, selection of colors will play an important role. It spells the difference between a dull, lifeless room and one that is cheerful and livable.

There are three primary colors—red, yellow and blue. All others are formed by combining these three in varying degrees and by addition of black or white to darken or lighten the value.

To make a small room appear larger, utilize the cool or receding colors, such as the light blues, grays, greens, ivories and off-whites. The warm or advancing colors, such as red, terra cotta, rose, brown and tan, have the opposite effect, appearing to reduce the size of the room.

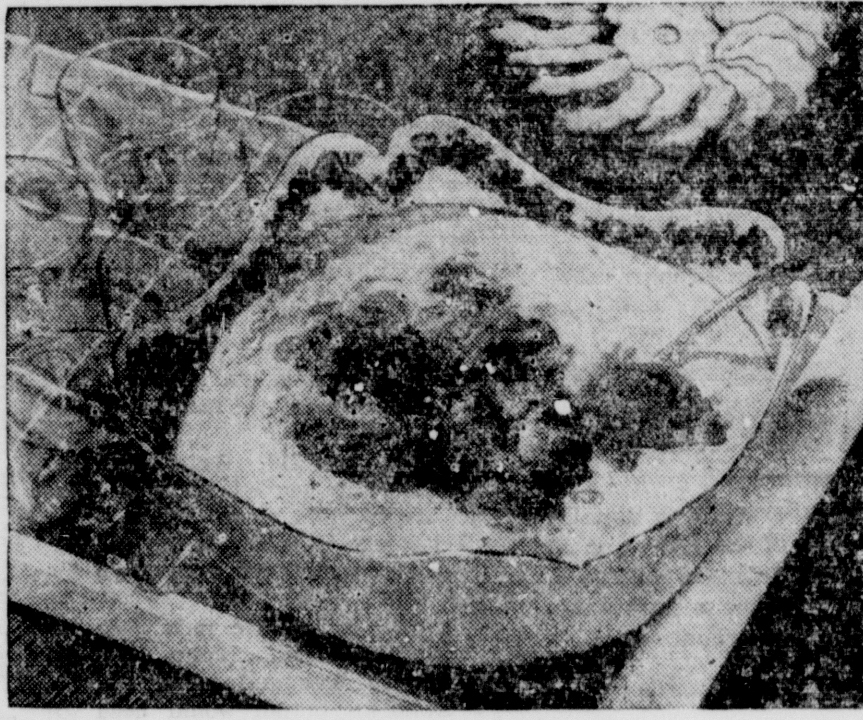

Rooms which are too large and appear to run away with the furnishings can be brought together by using big, over-scale wallpaper patterns in warm colors. On the other hand, small patterns in cool colors tend to "spread out" the walls.

Be Smart!

Two new ideas are sketched in the outfit here. High color contrast and a revival of the long linen coat are very new. The dress with its sleek mandarin collar and virtual sleevelessness is in mauve linen, while the coat is a rich green. The linen is, of course, treated for crush resistance.

Welcome the Crowd with Mocha Punch

Good Refreshers

Versatile homemakers keep supplies on hand to prepare tasty refreshments for unexpected friends who may drop in for a visit or after a game of bowling or golf.

It's well to keep the cookie jar stocked for just such occasions. Another idea is to keep packaged ice cream in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator or the home freezer and your problem of what to serve is solved. There are any number of ways to serve ice cream with frozen, fresh or canned fruit, and, of course, it's wonderful to use in milk shakes, sodas, sundaes and coolers that can be prepared with little effort.

A large bowl of milk punch with ice cream floating on top will be a taste-tempting and satisfying drink to serve for a large crowd. Pass this with cookies or sandwiches made from items on the emergency shelf. Any large bowl may be used for the punch.

Mocha Punch

(Serves 12)

- 1 quart chocolate ice cream
- 1 quart freshly-made coffee, chilled
- 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
- Few grains of salt
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg

Chill coffee in refrigerator. To prepare punch, pour coffee into punch bowl, add half of the ice cream, salt, and stir until partially melted. Whip cream until stiff, add flavoring and blend. Fold in whipped cream and rest of ice cream. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg and serve immediately.

What about those easy to bake cookies at the last minute? Yes, refrigerator cookies are wonderful made just before serving because they take less than a quarter of an hour to bake. Have the dough ready for just such emergencies as this.

Butterscotch Refrigerator Cookies

(Makes 50)

- 1/2 cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Work shortening or butter until light and fluffy. Add sugar gradually and cream until light. Add well-beaten egg and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients. Add gradually blending thoroughly. Shape into a roll and wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Cut in slices 1/8-inch thick and bake on sheets in a hot (375 degree) oven for 10 minutes.

Here are other cookies which keep well and are nice to have already in the cookie jar:

Hermits

(Makes 4 dozen)

- 3/4 cup lard
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together the lard and sugar. Add eggs, and then fold in flour which has been sifted with the spices. Just before all the flour

LYNN SAYS: Equipment Wears Better With Daily Care

Refrigerators should be defrosted at least once a week. Excess forming of ice can be avoided if you keep the door closed. Get what you need out of the refrigerator quickly to prevent air from entering.

The interior of the refrigerator may be cleaned with warm water to which is added a bit of baking soda. Never use abrasives on the enamel.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Ice Box Lemon Pie
- Beverage

is blended add the nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased or oiled cookie sheet about two inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot (375 degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Apple Butter Cookies

(Makes 24)

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 cup apple butter or tart jam
- Granulated sugar

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and blend in alternately with buttermilk. Chill until easy to handle. Roll to an eighth of an inch thickness then cut with 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Put together in pairs with apple butter or jam in the center. Press edges together with a fork. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on greased cookie sheet about an inch apart and bake in a very hot (400 degree) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

If the crowd is hungry you can add some sandwiches to serve with the punch or milk shakes if you are entertaining a crowd of youngsters. Here are sandwiches easy to make with materials easy to keep on hand:

Deviled ham and cream cheese with lettuce on whole wheat or rye bread.

Egg salad alone or combined with sliced ham or tongue on wheat or white bread.

Peanut butter mixed with honey and chopped dates on toasted white bread.

Crisp bacon, crumbled and mixed with cold baked beans and chopped mustard pickle on white bread.

Cold canned chicken, chopped and mixed with celery, minced and green pepper.

Dried beef, washed and minced, then mixed with cream cheese and seasoned with minced onion and a dash of horseradish.

Deviled ham mixed with chili sauce and softened butter, spread on freshly toasted white bread.

Tuna fish and chopped olives, mixed with mayonnaise.

Peanut butter combined with orange juice and chopped dates.

The outside should be wiped daily to prevent an accumulation of dirt. A damp cloth to remove fingerprints as soon as they are made will keep the finish gleaming.

Dust which accumulates in the unit compartment at the bottom of the refrigerator should be cleaned out periodically.

Ranges will give better service if pilot lights are always kept cleaned.

Some 17 billion passengers yearly travel more than 241 million miles in elevators. About 5,000 new elevators went into operation in metropolitan areas throughout the United States in early 1948, at an estimated cost of 60 million dollars.

Shell Fish

Shell fish are very fine sources of protein, minerals and vitamins, and are shipped far inland. The mouths of clams and oysters should be tightly closed—or close immediately when touched—if they are alive and fresh.

To Save Towels

Mend snags or worn places in towels before they go into the wash to avoid further tearing. If the selvage shows wear, check fraying by taking several rows of stitches along the edge to strengthen it.

Try Lemon in Water—it's good for you

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B<sub>1</sub> and P. They alkalize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

TRUE STORIES of WEST TEXAS

"THE DIE-UP ON STINKING CREEK"

Lige Carter, foreman of the T Diamond herd of Jones County, looked at the dead cattle in dismay. So many were there that for a fleeting moment he feared that his entire herd must have died during the night.

"Why, I had just as well have left them to die of the drouth," he muttered as she swung down to examine them better. "They have been poisoned, for sure," he continued, seeing their bloated sides and swollen tongues. "But what was it that poisoned some and not the others?"

There were 319. Swinging into his saddle he paused again to look over the horrible scene. They were piled thick on the banks of the creek and some were even down in the water.

Turning quickly he rode back to camp, bewildered. John Bryan, his young boss and owner of the T Diamond brand, would need to be told. He was planning to leave for ranch headquarters this morning.

This was in July, 1885 and Central West Texas was faced with a most severe drouth. All creeks and surface water sources were drying up. The big cattlemen realized what was happening and had begun to brace themselves for the shock. Besides selling off rather heavily they had begun driving their animals to better pasturage—to the Panhandle, south to the Concho and even to Arizona. As yet the newcomers to the West—the farmer and the little stockman—seemed unaware of its real severity.

And thus had John Bryan, son of a cattle baron who continued to be affectionately known as "Uncle Wash" to everyone, decided to drive some 4,800 head of his T Diamond brand to the Stinking Creek community of Stonewall County. The drouth had struck lightly there.

But it was not until the two men had begun pulling the dead animals from the bed of the creek that they knew the answer to the riddle of the poisoning. The low water, stirred by the movement, had become chalky white. "Alkali!" they exclaimed simultaneously. The first animals had stirred up the water to such an extent that the latter ones had drunk too much of it in that condition.

The drouth had not abated. The fear of the cattlemen became a reality and following the year of 1886 saw people throughout the country crying for rain and for food. In August, Governor Ireland issued an appeal for relief and the response was immediate. But the day of the big cattle baron was over. Henceforth his was a program of smaller herds and better strain; and the T Diamond was one of the first to lead out in this.

Lower Feed Grains and Hogs Exceptions To Generally Steady to Strong Markets

Lower hogs and feed grains furnished notable exceptions to otherwise generally steady to strong farm markets during the past week, according to a report received late this week from the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Wheat closed Monday little changed from a week earlier, but corn fell nine to 13 cents a bushel, oats and barley two to three cents and milo eight cents a hundred pounds. Monday's close of No. 2 grades: Houston and San Antonio, Med. found white corn $2.75 to $2.78, yellow corn $2.48½ to $2.50 1, 2, oats $1.41 to $1.45 and milo $3.87 to $3.92.

Wheat millfeeds rose sharply, while meatscrap and tanlage fell $15 to $20 a ton. Alfalfa hay weakened and prairie hay remained dull as spring pastures improved. Peanuts held steady to firm. Wool contracting continued in Texas. Hogs and sows lost 50 cents to $1.50 for the week at most Southwest markets. Texas and Oklahoma terminals took good and choice medium weight butchers Monday at $20.50 to $21, while Denver and Kansas City paid $19.50 to $20.50. Sows brought $14 to $15 at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City and $13 to $14 at Wichita and Denver.

Cattle brought generally 50 cent to $1 more than a week earlier. Stocker and feeder classes showed less strength than other kinds at Houston and San Antonio. Medium and good stocker calves sold at $21 to $25 at Houston, $24 to $26.50 at San Antonio and $23 to $28 at Fort Worth. Oklahoma City moved stocker steers and yearlings largely from $23 to $26.25, while Wichita took medium and good light weights from $23. to $26 Denver paid $27.25 for fleshy feeder steers.

Lambs gained around $1 to $2 at Texas markets during the past week an even more at other Southwest terminals. Hives sold steady to $1 lower. Good and choice spring lambs brought $21.50 to $22.50 at San Antonio Monday an $22 to $24.50 at Fort Worth. Kansas City brought medium and good woolled lambs at $24.75.

Egg markets held about steady despite slight weakness here and there. Current receipts brought 37 to 40 cents at Dallas, Fort Worth and Denver and 40 to 45 cents at New Orleans. Hens and fryers held firm, with supplies about equal to demand. Roosters sold lower as the spring hatching season neared a close.

Cotton fluctuated widely, but closed Monday around $3.75 a bale higher than a week before. Spot middling 15-16 inch reached 38 cents per pound at Dallas.

NICE SAFES at The Herald.

Monopoly on Yellow

"Is there a monopoly on yellow?" a tired and disgusted homemaker asks after completing the messy task of mixing coloring into a pound of margarine.

Yes, Mrs. Homemaker, there is a monopoly on yellow. Through our own laws we have placed ourselves in the position of virtually prohibiting the use of yellow coloring by one wholesome food product, while allowing another to color itself without restrictions.

Here are the facts on the yellow monopoly:

To buy a pound of yellow margarine you pay the federal government a 10-cent tax. To sell you that pound of yellow margarine, the retailer pays an annual federal license fee of $48, the wholesaler $480 a year, and the manufacturer $600 a year.

In addition to these federal restrictions, there are laws in 23 states prohibiting completely the sale or manufacture of yellow margarine.

At the same time, the butter industry is allowed to color its product yellow without so much as indicating on the carton the fact that it is artificially colored. Such discriminations are unjust and un-American. It is unfair that the consumer should be penalized or prohibited from buying margarine—a wholesome and nutritious product of American farms—of Scurry County farms, moreover.

It is unfair that the nation's 1,500,000 cotton farm families and 450,000 soybean farm families find their markets so restricted.

It is to the credit of the 80th Congress that almost a score of bills have been introduced seeking the repeal of the anti-margarine laws and the removal of the monopoly on yellow. It will be to the lasting credit and benefit of the American people if through their letters and telegrams during the weeks ahead they give their congressmen and senators the support and encouragement essential to the removal of the margarine barriers this year.

Savings Bonds Are Safe

The time has come when people are actually wondering how they will spend their money nowadays. It is a tragedy that more are not pondering how they can save some of their earnings for the "rainy days" that are as certain to come as prosperity is here now.

Government savings bonds are still among the country's safest investments—in fact, they are as safe as the country itself. One's dollars are put up for years to come, and will earn interest at a steady, sure rate. Then they will be available 10 years hence when most of us will be needing extra cash probably, when the dollar no doubt will be worth much more than it is today.

The Times can think of no better plan of thrift for the youngsters of today, most of whom have some cash of their own. Tenets of saving for worse days instilled in the youth of today will teach them valuable lessons of economy, doing without and hedging against "hard times."

Every time you can, buy a bond. You'll be glad you did 10 years hence.

PRICE CONTROL NOT THE ANSWER

To this nation's consumers of low or moderate means, the high cost of food, fuel and other living necessities presents a problem which promises to get worse before it is bettered. An occasional cheaper price on some staple commodity affords some relief, but these exceptions to extravagant prices are too occasional to amount to much. Economic disaster, as some fear, may be the outcome of this inflationary climb but, even so the return of price controls demanded by some is not the answer to the problem.

Consumers who, under present uncontrolled prices, must do without many of their wants and needs because of inability to pay the current price, would still have to do without under ceiling prices which would drive the articles they desire off of the market.

The plain truth which the Washington powers attempt to conceal, and people of the United States need to face now instead of later, is that they cannot forever be bailed out of the penalties of their follies. They have had their dizzy dance of "spend and spend, tax and tax, elect and elect," and now that the piper is calling for payment, that payment will have to be sweated out—not run away from as is the purpose of price controls.

It is human nature to want to squirm out of the troubles they make for themselves, but it can't be done. As just one of the products and penalties of the socialist, spendthrift policies pursued by the national government of late years, and applauded by the majority, the high prices from which all alike would like to escape, must be endured until relief through sane processes is secured. Artificial palliatives, such as price ceilings, serve only to delay the final reckoning to the continued upset of the national economy. If profitters are aggravating a bad situation, the government has the duty and the means of dealing with them. However, the many obvious causes of high living prices leaves little guilt to be charged to probable profiteers.—The Florence Vidette.

By LEON GUINN

Italy seems, at the moment, to be trying desperately to stem the Red tide before the April 18 elections in this strife-torn country, and Russian squabbling over Berlin has been, to a great extent, to impress the Italians (if this is possible). . . . If the Communists poll as much as 41 per cent of the votes in the Italian election we may look for plenty of trouble ahead, but if the forces of reason and conservatism lead the way then Russia will suffer a major setback in her foreign policies. . . . Russia has long since coveted the "boot" as a strategic point in the Mediterranean, and the moves behind the Iron Curtain reveal Russia expects Communist approval by Italy in the approaching balloting. . . . The Italian people, weary of betrayal and rape, have turned to membership in the Western European Union, and at present Italy is asking for revision of the peace treaty to permit recruiting a sizeable armed force. . . . Italy also would like to have trusteeship over at least one former Italian colony.

Although the Southwest is pestered more or less with dusts storms, the overall world viewpoint for wheat is improving. . . . As a matter of fact, the European wheat crop has sailed through the winter in excellent condition, and Europe now has an indicated harvest better than in 1947. . . . France could possibly be self sufficient in wheat, and even Italy plans to reduce imports during the coming season. . . . In the intervening weeks Australia and Argentina have been exporting larger quantities of grains than in many years past; and Soviet exports by way of the Black Sea ports have increased on a substantial basis during the past few months.

Those bright boys of the lobby who have gloated over national tax relief may find their joy short-lived in event we become embroiled in another war. . . . President Truman warned the Congress and the nation that this year of reconstruction afforded no time for cutting taxes and adding still further to inflationary forces, but the Republicans were so "hog wild" they mustered votes right and left to override President Truman's veto. . . . In years ahead we are already hearing a lot of talk about fifty billions in government budgets to maintain American power; and of hiking (not lowering) the overall tax rate to carry such a heavy burden. . . . When it's all said and done, there will still be considerable trade between Eastern and Western Europe that will not be completely shut down. . . . Some type of compromise, it has hinted Wednesday, is already in the capitol hopper.

With our present "war of nerves" entering yet a second verse, a considerable amount of attention is being given Alaska, where we spent so many millions putting through the highway to Fairbanks, and where at present we have a skeleton garrison to maintain this important lifeline in case anything happens around the Aleutian Islands. . . . The rugged terrain of Alaska, plus its bitter weather, caused observers to agree this week that with a small force Uncle Sam can hold off the Russians, whose toe-holds come out into the Bering Strait, against the time when atomic bombs could finish such an unpleasant mission.

The old Democratic ship has been listing rather heavily the past few days, and about the latest "crew member" to announce intentions of leaving the ship is Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. . . . Truman aides, of course, deny firmly that Mrs. Roosevelt wanted to take a life boat, but news from reliable quarters indicates she tried to quit the job she had with the United Nations, but was persuaded at the last moment to stay on for at least several more weeks. . . . There is an indication that she may well follow her two sons in renouncing the Truman leadership before the Democratic convention. . . . Those who have joined the Henry Wallace camp say plenty will be stirring with Wallace before the Democratic "hook up" race for the presidential sweepstakes. . . . It is rather pathetic that Wallace, who has held a number of high governmental posts and who could never be satisfied with any of his jobs, came out this year to split voting as much as possible, when he could well afford to go back to his native corn country—his recent speeches have had a great deal of the undiluted variety all through his platform planks.

Margarine Taxes May Be Repealed By US Congress

Jones County cotton producers and those of the rest of the Cotton Belt were interested this week in the prediction by a key member of the House farm bloc at Washington that the federal margarine tax will be repealed at this session of Congress.

The member, who asked that a name be withheld, forecast that efforts by members from dairy sections to modify tax repeal by compromise action will be unsuccessful. The farm state representative observed that whatever action is taken at this session, the butter-margarine situation will not be affected.

He pointed out that present production of both butter and margarine combined does not equal the pre-war output, despite the fact that the production of margarine has doubled.

The difficulty is, he asserted, that there is not enough butter to go around.

"No matter what legislation we pass here, almost two-thirds of the people will still have to color their own oleomargarine because of state laws."

The House is expected to vote April 26 on the margarine tax repeal bill which was taken out of the hands of its agriculture committee by a petition signed by 218 members. The legislation would repeal the one-fourth cent tax on uncolored margarine, the 10-cents-a-pound tax on colored margarine and the dealers' levies which are set at $600 a year for manufacturers, $480 a year for colored and $240 for uncolored for wholesalers; and $48 for colored and $6 uncolored for retailers.

Got Away from It All.
"Pardner," said the Western rancher, "where'd you move from?"
"Illinois."
"Illinois, heh?" How come you leave a settled country like that and come to these lonesome hills?
"Well, sir, my neighbors got to saying mean things about me."
"Why didn't you challenge them to prove their slanderous statements?"
"I did. And they did."

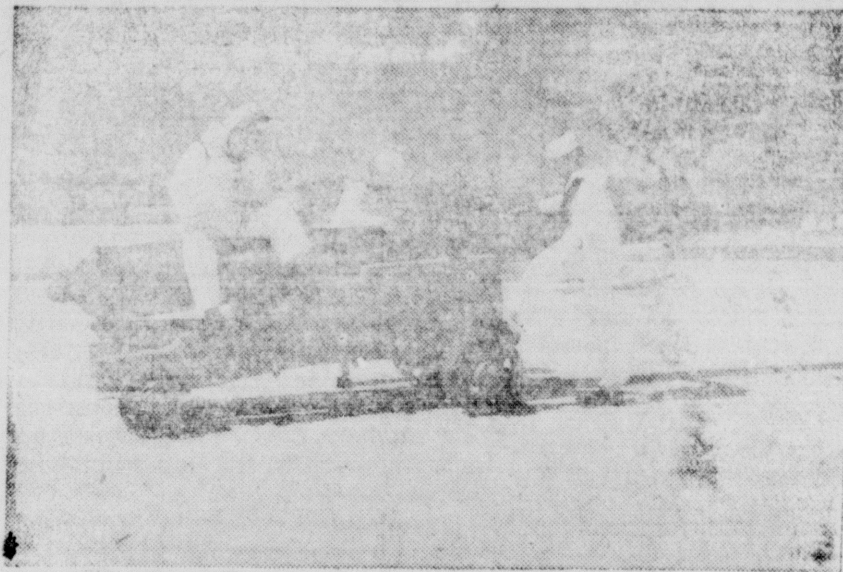

and repeat the application in 15 days. Insect killer can also be mixed with water and used as a spray.

Q—What causes limping and lameness in a flock of chickens, and how can this condition be eliminated?

A.—This may be the nerve form of the avian leukosis complex, which can affect the nerves in any part of the body. However, it usually affects the nerves of the legs and wings and was originally described as fowl paralysis. The nerves in the legs and wings are affected to the point where the bird has no control over the wing or in walking. One may notice a lameness or limping and finally a complete inability of the fowl to stand. It may affect either one or both legs. We recommend removing chickens from the flock as soon as they show any symptoms of this nature. If they are still in good flesh they can be salvaged for food. At the present time the most reliable method of control and prevention is a program of selective breeding, isolation and sanitation.

Q.—Can lack of a balanced diet cause breeding losses in dairy cattle?
A.—Yes. According to J. W. Hibbs, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, under-feeding and insufficient vitamin A content in dairy rations may cause as many breeding losses as infections and malformations.

More REA Lines Promised in New Program of Loan

Farm families in the Hamlin area and other portions of the country who have waited for months or years for the REA line to reach their homes can now take fresh hope, according to a report received from Congressman George Mahon. Last week the House of Representatives at Washington by a vote of 199 to 154 passed an amendment providing for $175,000,000 in REA loan funds to become immediately available upon approval by the Senate and the president, which is expected within three weeks.

Th House also has approved an additional $400,000,000 in loans for the REA to become available on July 1.

Mahon advises that this represents the most ambitious REA program ever undertaken in the history of the nation. Prospects are that abundant funds for the REA will be available for a period of at least one year. However, there will still be delays brought about by the inability of the REA office in Washington to process applications with sufficient speed and for the reason that abundant construction materials are in short supply. Fortunately, in recent weeks the material situation has definitely improved.

Mahon is a member of the appropriations committee and joined with other friends of the REA in Congress in the successful effort to provide additional funds. Such funds are provided in the form of loans to REA co-ops which are repaid with interest to the government.

Mid-West Electric Cooperative at Roby and Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative at Colorado City are serving Jones County consumers and others.

Give Bossy a Schedule.
Milk cows are creatures of habit. Proper handling of cows on a regular schedule is the essence of good dairy management.

Another important thing to remember about the use of 2-4-D is that it is a fairly strong spray that "hangs on." Even if a sprayer is washed out after being used, it is possible to kill plants with 2-4-D while spraying insecticides some time later on. So the safest thing to do is have two sprayers—one for 2-4-D and one for insecticides. This way there will be no danger of injuring the plants when switching from 2-4-D to insecticides, Stanley explains.

Poisoning Weed Pests Opportune Now, Says Agent

Early spring is the season for kill in gout loco, hoarhound, bull thistle and poisonous bitterweed with 2-4-D, says County Agent H. C. Stanley, through information supplied by Robert R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Uniform success on these has been reported by county agents over the state the past two years. The most complete kill is made by spraying when the plants are young tender and growing. Solution 2-4-D under any brand is the same, but its solution may be weak or strong, and the weak solutions need less water than the stronger concentrates. Stanley says directions for mixing and using the various brands are different, and may be found on their containers.

Formula 2-4-D will kill most any other weeds coming up this season of the year, Stanley explains. It makes a fine weed killer, but he warns to keep it away from gardens, flowers and ornamental shrubs because it will damage these plants severely, perhaps kill them out en-

Miss Gertie Young, who has been in the Hamlin Memorial Hospital for the past 42 days was able to be was there for a serious accident she dismissed Tuesday morning. She received while operating an electric wringer. Her right arm was caught and badly bruised to the arm pit. No bones were broken but the muscles were so badly bruised that on time could repair after skin grafting.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Carries Fight to Communists As Congress Approves Foreign Aid; Income Tax Cut Becomes a Reality

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FOREIGN AID:

In Motion

With President Truman's signature on the $6,000,000,000 foreign aid bill, the massive, potent forces of western capitalism moved into action against Russian communism for the beginning of a titanic, long range clash of strength.

To observers in the U.S. this interplay of forces had all the ingredients of an epic poem—the power of good striving mightily to overcome the power of evil, with the fate of a large segment of mankind depending on outcome of the struggle.

There was an epic quality, too, in the manner in which congress, seemingly impelled by a strong sense of urgency, raced the bill through for final action. The house approved it with a vote of 318 to 75 after less than 15 minutes of explanation, and the senate followed up swiftly with a voice vote.

Two days after passage of the measure President Truman meshed the gears of the global aid program by ordering the reconstruction finance corporation to advance 1.16 billion dollars at once. That action released U.S. dollars, reconstruction supplies and in some cases arms to 15 European nations, as well as Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China.

The overall $6,000,000,000 aid package includes 4.3 billion dollars for the European recovery program, 275 million dollars for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, 463 million for China and 2 million dollars for Trieste. All of it is aimed at areas where communists are sharpening their sword of aggression.

An ill-starred movement in the house to include aid to Franco Spain in the bill was defeated before it had time to do much damage to U.S. prestige and moral stature abroad.

As the aid started to move, the situation abroad stacked up something like this:

Russia's seizure of Czechoslovakia, its new pact with Finland and pressure on Scandinavian nations, the Soviets' arbitrary action in Berlin all pointed to the fact that Moscow was trying to bring about a showdown in Europe before the European recovery plan began to work effectively.

On the other hand, the rapid passage of the foreign aid measure, the proposal to return Trieste to Italy and the stiffening of American will in Berlin seemed to indicate that the U.S., while not forcing a showdown, was, nevertheless, willing to have it as soon as possible.

REDUCTION:

Tax Measure

President Truman's veto of the income tax reduction bill was crushingly overridden by both houses of congress—311 to 83 in the house, 77 to 10 in the senate—and U.S. citizens sat back to gloat over the first major tax-cutting measure passed in nearly 20 years.

In his now characteristic "I'd rather be right than be president" role, Mr. Truman had stubbornly affixed his veto to the bill, protesting that it mainly would benefit persons with incomes of $5,000 or more, encourage further inflation and sap the nation's strength at a time of international "danger."

Examination of the new tax structure indicated that the President was right in his first contention, at least—that the law would be of greater benefit to persons with high incomes than to those in lower brackets. Reason for that is that 12.6 per cent of $3,000 is considerably less than 5 per cent of a million. (Cuts in tax rates as provided by the new law range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest brackets to 5 per cent in the top level.)

Most interesting aspect of the tax cut development was the question of what motivated Mr. Truman to veto the bill. He was aware that enough members of both houses were supporting tax reduction in this election year to override his veto; hence, that his veto would be a gesture of futility that would place him on record as opposing the popular will.

Mr. Truman must have been aware, also, of the strong possibility

Who's Mad?

Nobody seemed to be mad at anybody when Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia and President Truman met at convocation exercises at William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., to receive honorary degrees of doctor of laws. Mr. Truman exchanged a cordial handshake with Governor Tuck, vociferous leader of the southern states' rebellion on the President's civil rights program.

that next year congress, safely through the elections, will boost federal income by reimposing some version of the wartime excess profit tax.

In view of these unpromising but inescapable realities, the President's veto of the tax bill simply did not fit the preconceived pattern of political action in an election year. Rather, it looked more like the deliberate driving of another nail in his political coffin.

In his veto message, Mr. Truman contended that increased defense and foreign aid measures might make it necessary for congress to raise taxes next year.

"In the case of the income tax," he said, "nearly 40 per cent of the reduction would go to individuals with net incomes in excess of $5,000, who constitute less than 5 per cent of all taxpayers."

Also, the President continued, while national income is high every effort should be made to reduce the size of the 253-billion-dollar public debt.

He was, beyond doubt, sincere in his objections, but they fell on deaf ears in congress.

APOLOGIA:

From Russia

Even as Russia officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" British-Soviet plane crash over Berlin which cost 15 lives, plain people all over the world began to see more clearly how, although no nation is seeking war now, a war could start accidentally.

A pilot of a Russian fighter plane had buzzed a British plane, carrying 14 passengers, as it was landing in Berlin. The transport crashed in the Russian zone where the wreckage lay for 12 hours before the bodies were permitted to be moved.

Tension in Berlin eased somewhat when British officials accepted the Russian apology and canceled plans to assign fighter plane escorts to all air transports coming into Berlin.

The official British account of the crash quoted eyewitnesses as saying that the Russian fighter pilot was "frolicking" when he hit the big plane.

While the fighter pilot undoubtedly had not been ordered to harass the British plane, it was equally apparent that he and his cohorts had not been forbidden to do so.

Aside from the number of lives lost, the disturbing part of the incident is that it was, in a manner of speaking, an aggressive action, an overt act of deliberate provocation. And it is just such incidents as that that world leaders fear might one day touch off the conflagration.

Headliners

IN MANILA, P. I. . . . Ariston Almal, veteran of Bataan, received an army bank pay check for 49 cents, promptly went insane and died.

IN GOSHEN, Ind. . . . Harold Tinsley, 9, wanted to do something for underprivileged children overseas, nobly turned over to the Salvation Army his entire hoard of bubble gum—561 sticks.

IN ARTESIA, N. M. . . . Conscientious city fathers were trying to figure out a way to keep absentee-minded citizens from mailing letters in trash cans.

NEW START:

China's Chiang

Hopelessly lost in the political and economic confusion of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the republic in one capacity or another since 1927, was casting about for a new role in the tragedy of the Far East.

Afflicted externally by Communist armies and internally by the venality of black marketeers and corrupt government officials, Chiang has been in the position of a man attempting to build a house on a pile of soggy refuse.

Now, however, there was a report out that Chiang had decided to quit the presidency of China. But there also were indications that, far from going into retirement, he would remain as Kuomintang strong man by becoming premier.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing party, said that the generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese communists.

According to latest reports, Chiang was urging that Dr. Hu Shih be elected president. Former ambassador to Washington, Hu Shih now is president of Peking university.

PALESTINE:

Trusteeship

Studiously ignoring the groups and individuals who threw up their hands in horror when the U. S. reversed its position on partition of Palestine, this nation went right ahead with its avowed plan for a United Nations trusteeship of the Holy Land.

Disclosing some of the details of that plan, Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U.N., told security council members that the United States favors sending foreign troops to Palestine to keep order, if and when that becomes necessary, under the trusteeship formula.

Unmistakably implied, although not stated outright, was U. S. willingness to send American troops to the Holy Land, provided other nations would join the parade also. Another provision was that the number of nations supplying troops be specifically limited.

Actually, there was little optimism that the fratricidal strife in Palestine or the causes producing it could be effaced by the expedient of imposing a U.N. trusteeship.

NUMBER ONE

Public Friend

Carl C. Countryman again wants to be President of the United States. With true political ebullience he has dubbed himself "American Public Friend Number One" and adopted a monolithic slogan: "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman."

That this near-palindromic tongue-twister is intended to strike sparks of devotion from the flinty hearts of American voters is apparent in Countryman's frank statement that: "My campaign must be for overwhelming publicity and an appeal to the imagination of the American people."

I have a lot of evidence, he says, that my slogan, "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman," is doing the trick.

Countryman is not a myth. He is not a hoax himself, nor is he trying to perpetrate a hoax through his presidency campaign. He is just a man, getting along in years now, who is serving the sincere belief that he could do better in the White House than the political figureheads in vogue.

Countryman opposes communism: "I want no part nor dealings with the Communist usurpers, who represent but a small fragment of the great Russian people."

Countryman opposes the military draft: "The draft is a subterfuge of incompetence. I favor making universal military training so attractive that it will be universal or approximately so."

Countryman's name will appear on no primary election ballots: "The gain inherent in such a course will not justify the necessary expenditure of time and money."

Countryman likes John Bricker of Ohio: "If I cannot get the nomination, I am all for Bricker. I should like to have the ticket Countryman and Bricker but if not, then Bricker and Countryman."

There is a truism which holds that universally present in the heart of every man is the belief that he could play Hamlet and run a newspaper. Countryman brings that deeply felt human motivation to the height of true nobility. For in his heart is the crowning belief that he also could be a good president.

Seek Uranium

Uranium—that most precious of all metals since advent of the atomic age—is being sought in Colorado now.

Department of the interior has set aside about 40 square miles of public land in the southwestern part of the state for exclusive use of the atomic energy commission, which will conduct an exhaustive investigation there for deposits of uranium, source of atomic energy.

Road to Paganism

THERE can be only one excuse for the complacency with which a vast segment of the people of this country view the spread of communism. They don't know what it means, they don't know what it is and they underestimate its danger to every individual and the ideology and way of life we have chosen for our own in these United States.

Hitler's fascism was a political theory. The communism of Marx and Stalin is not only political, it is a religion as opposed to the Christian religion as it is possible to imagine. Communism denies the existence of God; it denies the dignity of a man or of the family as the unit for which the state functions; it bars the practice of any Christian religion.

All of western Europe and the western hemisphere maintain governments and civilizations based on the Christian philosophy of Jesus Christ. Our own government is based on these precepts. If this philosophy of Christianity goes down, then this government goes down. And it is in grave danger—in danger because people do not realize the danger.

Pope Pius has recognized the danger to Christianity in denying the sacraments of their church to Catholics who profess communism, not because it is a political theory but because it is a religion which endangers the foundations of Christianity and Christian civilization as we know it.

Communism is the road back to paganism. There can be no inalienable rights of man under communism; there can be no just powers with the consent of the governed under communism; there can be no Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian Science or Catholic churches; there can be no free elections; no such philosophy as men being created equal. Most world leaders recognize only its dangers politically as moving relentlessly and aggressively to grab governments. Political and religious leaders who think, see communism breeding in hate and intolerance and capturing men's minds and souls as well as their political freedom.

The chances are that the first thing the 81st congress will take up when it convenes next January is an income tax law putting back on the books the taxes which this congress, as a sop to gain votes in an election year, took off. So if you don't have to spend that tax cut you received, save it and you'll have it to pay back next January.

Constitutional Rights

This column is not going to join the chorus of predictions that President Truman will not be renominated or that he will withdraw from the race for renomination. It would be like him to withdraw voluntarily if he believed the good of the country demanded it, but he will not quit under fire.

He offended some 1,500,000 Jewish voters perhaps, when he realized that it would take American boys to defend partition of Palestine, that we didn't have the men to send, that congress never would agree to it and that it likely would also bring Russian troops where this country didn't want them to jeopardize overall foreign policy.

He offended the governors and professional politicians from seven southern states when he upheld the constitution of the United States, his own party platform and decisions of the supreme court on civil rights.

The President thinks there should be an anti-lynch law, an anti-poll tax law as a requisite for voting, and a permanent fair employment practices law to prevent "unfair" discrimination. And he thinks that segregation or Jim Crowism should be eliminated on interstate transportation lines, not local buses or street cars. The supreme court has held that segregation on interstate transportation lines is unconstitutional. The Constitution outlaws the poll tax as a voting condition.

Again the Constitution says: "... No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of any citizen of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." That's pretty clear and takes care of lynching and unfair discrimination.

Electoral System

The move to amend the Constitution with regard to presidential electors is gathering steam and direct vote of the people for president may become a reality. In addition to making the electoral vote of 531 electors proportional to ballots cast, there is sentiment to divide electors among states in the same proportion. For instance, Wisconsin and Georgia have 12 electoral votes each. But Wisconsin casts a million more votes.

U. S. Has Best Opportunity To Enforce Peace in World

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

Once again we face the high cost of savagery—or preventing it—depending on how you put it. Billions more to run the government and the world, and to cover a stepped-up defense program. Talk of a 10 per cent increase in the budget for next year seems logical. As one cynic remarked, in the next war perhaps we ought to try to get on the losing side, and let the victors support us for a change.

Discussion of the details and cost of a selective service and universal military training program has been going on for some time. Sentiment against drafting husbands and G.I.'s seems to be crystallizing.

It would seem that G.I.'s might be fairly good material in an emergency without having to learn the general orders over again, and without having to reacquire precision in bringing the right hand smartly to the cap brim or lying down within a reasonable period before the arrival of a machine gun bullet.

As to the husbands—they aren't entirely expendable, of course—all of them. Probably the most effective thing congress could have done was to vote immediately for immediate registration for everyone. The age brackets and exemptions, after all, could be settled later. If the emergency arises or even approaches—we can talk details. That is the kind of emergency we face, and no sacrifice would be too great to prevent it. Right now proof of our willingness to act is most important.

Contrary to the general assumption that all we need is a few push-button experts and professors of nuclear science, any war that might come from now on would require a more extensive mobilization of civilian as well as soldier than anything which has preceded it.

Meantime, there is a better chance to establish a solid and stable peace than there ever has been. The United States has a better opportunity to enforce peace than any nation ever had. We could, with comparatively small sacrifice, start a preparedness program to prevent the "imbalance" of power against us, as they say in diplomatic language.

In other words we could, without danger of actual conflict, since there is no power NOW (not tomorrow or next year, but NOW) strong enough to threaten us, establish a Pax Americana. And with the will to peace that exists in the world today, we could use that situation, not as the Pax Romana or the Pax Britannica was used—to create enemies—but to build an effective Pax Universalis.

America, in its strength could well afford to yield sovereignty to an international force. A period of tranquility, enforced if necessary, is what the world needs; time to reflect. Rome and Britain did bring a long peace of sorts; we can establish a longer one—one long enough, perhaps, to build a permanent one.

The principle is simple—as a colleague of mine is fond of saying—"nobody tries to pick a fight with Joe Lewis."

Early statements were made to the effect that it would cost an additional 400 millions over what already has been budgeted for universal military training. We now spend 650 million dollars a year on cosmetics. And the total time used in applying them, according to my private statisticians, divided into manhours of military training, leaves a generous surplus for home-work.

I do not mean to treat lightly the world situation and the idea of a Pax Americana is not an empty one.

It is, in fact, the only kind of a peace we can be sure of until we have time to stabilize world conditions, until there is a fairer division of the bread, and the security in which to earn it and eat it; a cessation of the fear, suffering and anxiety which make men trade their heritage of freedom for the empty promise of protection at any price.

I sympathize with the people who oppose militarism in any form; but I do not accept as a valid syllogism: Militarism is bad; military training in America is militarism; therefore, military training in America is bad. Military training in Germany (the classic example) was the result of militarism, not its cause. Military training in America is no more related to German militarism than a hot dog is brother to a Dachshund.

BARBS . . . by Baukhage

The world's largest herd of dwarf cattle recently reached Chicago—five cows and bulls totaling less than the weight of an average steer. Now I know where that steak I got last night came from.

Old songs are being revived, but there still are a lot of people who would rather hear "Beautiful Ohio" than "Missouri Waltz."

The Australian government is anxious that Australian girls who married American servicemen return to Australia with their husbands. Some of the girls are anxious to return to Australia, period.

Farmers say egg prices are too low, considering the high cost of poultry feed. Which comes first: The chicken, the egg or the feed?

Road to Paganism

THERE are more shattered dreams, dislocated hopes and tragedies in a training camp than non-combatants could ever guess.

This is no sob story—no crying match. It is a true story affecting the future lives and hopes of many very fine young men—such as Charlie Keller of the Yankees. Keller is as clean and as fine a citizen as I ever have known. He was a top student at Maryland. He was a young star with the Yankees. He has known more than one bad break. He was just edging into the money when he was called to war service. Last season a growth on his spine cut him down.

Keller has been working desperately to get back. The old pain is gone. The suffering is over. But back muscles take time to mend. "I can hit the ball solidly," he told me, "but it doesn't go very far. I need time to rebuild those destroyed muscles. What about the future? Who knows? I can only hope."

There is Spud Chandler, nearing 40, a great pitcher with a great heart. The chunk they cut from his elbow is still a St. Petersburg exhibit. "I'm aiming at 15 wins," Chandler told me. "I won't be far away." Maybe. Maybe not. But here's a man's career hanging in the balance.

Tex Hughson of the Red Sox—one of the best. Chandler rated Hughson the best in the American League. Last year Hughson won 12 and lost 11. Not too hot. But he also had a sore arm that called for an operation.

How good will Hughson be this season? Who can say? Hughson in old-time shape can win the American League pennant for Joe McCarthy and the Red Sox. A wavering Hughson can bring about their defeat.

If you saw the Kellers, the Chandlers, the Hughsons and others on the borderline, at work, you could sense their background of tragedy or their hopes of better and brighter days. A job is pretty important when you have a wife and a few kids. I mean a job where you belong—a job such as these veterans and others deserve.

There happens to be more than you might know on the human side in a spring training camp, where men from 30 to 39 might be wondering what the next move will be.

Football Coaches

The new football season of 1948 already is under way, with the greatest coaching shift in history. There are new men at Yale, Harvard, Indiana, Navy, Michigan, Washington and Kansas, to mention only a few. They are all good men and those who have the best material will win. Those who haven't, won't.

The most distinct shift belongs to Herman Hickman who left Army for Yale. The poet laureate of the Smoky mountains, who as a fat country boy, reached stardom as a guard at Tennessee over 20 years ago, had no early dream that some day he would be head football man beneath New Haven's classic elms.

At West Point, Hickman became the best line coach I ever saw. He also became one of the most inspirational factors in all football.

No one can say just yet how Hickman will work out as a head coach in his first year. My guess is that the Smoky mountain bard will do a fine job with even fair material.

Even at football's middle age, Herman knows in advance that he can handle any man on his squad, physically. This was true at Army when he had Coulter, Foldberg, Steffy and a few other brawny linemen. I've seen Hickman take them on two at a time with his amazingly active 300 or more pounds.

Hickman should make a fine head coach. He has been a great football player—and also a great fellow. Between seasons he can take over the chair of mountain poetry at Yale, in which his folksy might figure.

The Great Bambino

There is a story marching the rounds that is beyond all telling. Its setting is deep in tragedy, but its outline is as brilliant as any rim of stars.

It is the story of Babe Ruth, suffering beyond all comprehension, yet valiantly retracing his path of nearly 30 years ago for the good of baseball, for the good of all kids and for the good of suffering humanity in general—whatever the cause may be.

It is the story of a man who is much greater nearing the trail's end of glory than he ever was hitting his 714 home runs, and giving a vast nation the greatest thrills that sport ever has known.

Babe Ruth has been my friend for over 30 years—a great guy, set in mammoth proportions of build, heart and appetite, especially when he was starting from 1914 through 1935 in the box, in the field and above all, at bat.

Broken, but not beaten, a relic of the king that was, he is an even greater man today. His head may be bloody—but it remains unbowled.

Production Costs
To Pinch Farmers
Says Prediction

Department of Agriculture at Washington predicted last week-end that some farmers will be pinched this year by rising production costs and lower farm product prices.

It costs farmers more now than ever before, the agency said, to produce crops and livestock products. The margin between what the farmer gets for his products and what it costs him to produce them was said to be narrowing.

Items which will cost more than last year include fertilizers, land rentals, most seeds, real estate taxes, tractors and other farm machinery, gasoline, fencing, bagging and other harvesting materials.

Farm wage rates are expected to continue near last year's record despite prospects of some improvement in both the supply and general skill of workers.

The department said the prospective increase in the supply of farm machinery will ease the general farm labor situation, particularly for farmers in a position to substitute machinery for labor. Farm machinery output is expected to top last year's record.

EXCEPTION

By PAUL TULIEN

DOWN in the well, with no way of getting out and with little hope of rescue, Chris Thornton remembered the line he had written over and over in his copybook some 40 years before. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." He could fairly see the large round letters he had so laboriously formed with pen held stiffly in ink-smeared fingers.

The line had had little meaning for him then—just some words that he must write over and over until Miss Curry was satisfied. And Miss Curry had been hard to satisfy. Its meaning was brought home sharply to him now—when perhaps it was too late.

However, the former owner of the farm had let so many things about the place run down that he had time only to take care of what seemed most necessary. Undoubtedly, he thought ruefully, it would have been wiser to replace the rotten boards that covered the abandoned well, even though his cows might have stepped over a fallen wire to trample his promising corn.

All day he had been fixing fences, and coming home he had forgotten about the well which he could not see in the darkness. An ankle had been hurt in the fall—perhaps sprained or broken. It was swollen and painful, and probably would be worse by morning.

He struck a match and looked at his watch. Twenty to nine. Surely it must be later than that, for it seemed like hours since he had fallen. He held the watch to his ear; it was running now anyway.

Never before had a night been so unending. Snatches of sleep came at intervals, sleep broken by torturous dreams in which he was forever climbing, yet never quite reaching the top.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

The farm lay in a lonely place and a car seldom passed over the grass-grown road. He had had few visitors during the months he had lived here. Lou Edwards, his nearest neighbor, had stopped in several times, but it was unlikely that Edwards would come again soon for he had little time for visiting since his last boy had left.

Thornton knew that a man could climb out of a well without a ladder by bracing his back against one side and getting a foothold between the stones on the opposite side. He had seen it done though he had never tried it himself. To try it now, when his foot was so painful he could not stand on it, was out of the question.

"Should've busted my neck in instead," he muttered bitterly. "That would have ended the misery sooner."

The stars faded from the small circle of sky that he could see. Gradually light entered the well. Whining softly, his dog looked down at him; probably she had been sitting there all night, waiting for him to come up. If only there were a way to have the dog summon help. He might as well forget that. There wasn't any way.

He wished it would rain, for enough water might run down into the well to satisfy his growing thirst. Then too, Edwards might find time to come; his other visits had been made on rainy days. Might as well forget that too. It wouldn't rain.

Why did that copybook line keep looming before his eyes? Otherwise he never thought of things that happened so long ago. Of course, otherwise he had other things to think about—like worrying about the crops or planning something else. Such worries looked pretty inconsequential now. And unless he could get out of the well, there wouldn't be any more planning.

Thinking of the line made him think of the boys who had been his schoolmates and playmates in those long-past days—Tom, George, Cecil, Jimmy, Fred and many others whose names he could not even recall. Where were they now? He hadn't seen one of them for years.

Dimly their faces appeared out of the past, and then the line came bobbing back, blotting them out. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." Why couldn't the line stay away, he thought angrily. It couldn't do him any good now.

His dog began barking—at a squirrel maybe. Or was somebody coming? He shouted for help, hopefully at first, but as the minutes went by, despairingly.

The dog continued to bark. Probably at a squirrel, for there were many of them about.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Why Be a Negative?

There are some persons—too many, I am forced to declare—who live under the handicap of a personality that has a negative tinge.

In psychology we recognize them as a definite and an unpleasant group. We classify them. We name them. We call them negatives, and the disease from which they suffer—for it is really a chronic mental state of unhealth—we call negativism.

A person with a negativistic personality always is ready to argue the other side of the question. You make a statement. He says: "Oh, I don't know about that. Listen." And then the battle is on. For an exhibition of downright contrariness, the negativistics always are on hand.

They do not really know that they handicap themselves by this trait. To the contrary. They are proud of their bold, contrary attitude. They will tell you it is a sign of courage and strong will. All of which is piffle.

A negativistic tendency, far from being a sign of strong will and intellect, is definite evidence of an adult who hasn't grown up and who is dumb in the bargain!

Dr. M. M. Reynolds, careful observer of human traits, made a study of negativism in babies. It begins to appear at the age of six months, he found. Then it gradually subsides. Intelligent children exhibit negativism less than dull children. Wherever it persists, it is a sign of deficient intelligence and a mind that won't grow up. And to have negativism is not a thing of which to be proud.

Closely akin to negativism is a commoner trait. We call it stubbornness. One-third of us are born stubborn, grow up stubborn, die stubborn—to the everlasting damage of our personalities. For like negativism, stubbornness is a sign of mental deficiency and inadequacy. The stubborn person isn't strong; he is merely weak; he is afraid that if he gives in, yields a point, he never again will be able to climb back to the same degree of vantage. Therefore he sits tight.

If you have negativistic or stubborn tendencies, don't give up heart. You can get over both. Just examine your own mental outlook. Do you find yourself taking the opposite side of questions? Do you find yourself holding your ground when there is no reason for it, no need of it?

Then guard against both these tendencies of yours. Watchfulness you must exercise. But you can win if you try. And you must win, because no negative, no stubborn personality was ever a successful, a likeable or a charming personality.

Job injuries increase in Postwar Industry

U. S. economy is expanding under the pressure of postwar necessity; but that almost frantic expansion is taking a high toll in deaths and injuries of workers.

Last year, the bureau of labor statistics reports, was the seventh in a row in which more than two million workers suffered disabling injuries on the job. Time lost during the year because of injuries amounted to 44.7 million man-days—the equivalent of a year's full-time employment for about 150,000 persons.

Giving even greater pause was the fact that 17,000 persons were killed in job accidents during 1947. Bureau of labor statistics puts the blame, to a large extent, on rising employment. Another factor last year, however, were two major industrial disasters—the Texas City explosion and the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster—both of which took heavy tolls.

Job injuries in 1947 increased 1 per cent over 1946, job injury deaths jumped 3 per cent. The year's toll included 1,800 employees who will be totally disabled for the rest of their lives and another 90,000 who will suffer some permanent impairment as long as they live.

Increases in injuries and deaths occurred in construction, mining and quarrying, public utilities and trade. Agriculture and railroad injuries were fewer than in 1946.

Intelligence, is definite evidence of an adult who hasn't grown up and who is dumb in the bargain!

ZECHARIAH 1:1-6; 4: 7-8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 24: 1-6.

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

ZECHARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet.

His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to summon the people to righteousness as a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes.

The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you." Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God. The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the temple and restoring their life in Jerusalem.

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHARIAH reminds the people of the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 8:13.

"What makes a nation great and strong?"

Not brick, nor stone, nor wood. But justice, love and brotherhood.

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple. The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him.

I like the phrase of the fathers. "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Keep a happy house with happy children in it. Cultivate a dozen things at home: flowers, games, hospitality for the children, books . . .

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

WHEN we were married we were poor," writes Elizabeth Bates from St. Paul. "It wasn't only that we were happier then—I knew we were happier. People don't often admit that they're happy, when circumstances are hard and uncertain, but we did."

"Lee and I met in a great disaster, a flood. It was when we lived down South; we were both flooded out, and both began to help feed the refugees. I was in a big food center, combining beans, soup, hash and everything else into great hot goulashes, buttering buns, pouring hot coffee. Lee organized the distribution. I don't think either one of us was ever happier than in those days of change and terror. Between us, with an army of helpers, we got everything running so smoothly that our unit was considered far and away the best."

"After that I lived with an aunt, took a job. Lee got a job and we were married. Quite in the spirit of our first meeting, our new home was a small abandoned garage. The cemented main floor was our sitting room, the three small rooms upstairs our living rooms. It was such an adventure, it was all such fun!"

"Then when Lee sold a piece of property destroyed by flood and no longer in a residential district, we went abroad for two marvelous years. Our expenses for those 25 months averaged $100 a month, and we came home with Michael thrown in for good measure."

Lee Joins Law Firm

"While Lee finished his law course, we lived in one room off a kitchen in a big house. I cooked and waited on table for our room and board, and Sheila came to join Michael, Lee and me. Sundays Lee washed the cars, raked the lawn, cut wood, and I worked in the kitchen from early morning until 10 at night. We saved money, and presently a fine law firm asked Lee to join it, and were we proud! I'd never finished high school but of course he had had just about 20 years of schooling."

"Well, then we had to stop with the domestic position, and we took a flat; managing wasn't so easy on one salary, and I began to sense even then what I know now so well, that I wasn't keeping up with Lee. His pay was small, but his firm thought the world of him, and he began to be noticed politically and to make speeches. Then—four years ago he was sent to a big convention as a delegate, and actually was nominated for state office. But the fine offer from St. Paul came then and we moved here."

"Now I have three children, 8, 6 and 3. We are prosperous. I have a good wife to help me. But Lee has left me behind. There is another woman; I think I always knew that there would be. But now that it has come, it is hard to take. She is handsome, rich, of high social standing and politically active. Lee and I are 31, she some six years older. She fascinates him, telephones him, takes him off to meetings, and they have dinner at some little place or on the train. She has been married twice, widowed once, divorced once."

"Citrus Steaks on Order

Some day filets of lemon and orange steaks may be featured on dinner menus.

Leo K. Stone, a research chemist in Miami, Fla., has been working with orange and lemon seeds.

Next step, according to Stone, is perfecting a citrus seed meat substitute. It is still in the experimental stage, but Stone revealed that he already has progressed to the point where the seeds "smell like fresh baked bread."

THROUGHOUT the ages men have ever clung To the everlasting promises of God. When loss and grief and suffering have wrung Their hearts, the pilgrims journeying on earth's sod Have turned their faces skyward, and will turn Forever toward the arching starlit skies, Where steadfastly his silver fires burn Like words of flame before their seeking eyes.

O men, behold! Lift up your eyes and see Who hath created them. He brings them out, He names each one—he knows their destiny. Not one will fail! Oh, we so prone to doubt, Can we not trust the One through life's brief hour, Who has such infinite, unending power?

POT-SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

By GEORGE DARDEN

Senior play at the school house last Friday night was a dandy play, good acting and a large crowd attended.

Visiting relatives and friends in McCauley and Hamlin last week-end from Slaton were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Casey Jones and sons.

Mrs. Della Fancher has moved a house from her farm to town and will reside in McCauley.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Dean and daughter from Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dean Sunday of last week.

C. W. Martin left last week-end for Fort Worth for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Dor. Maberry returned to her home last Saturday after several weeks stay in Lamesa.

W. E. Maberry from Lamesa visited with relatives in McCauley last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson from Abilene visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Henderson at 3:00 o'clock p. m.

Dr. J. T. Bynum, pioneer, West Texas doctor and formerly of McCauley and Hamlin, was visiting friends in Hamlin Sunday. Dr. Bynum is now a resident of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dick Jr. from Italy visited last week-end with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Dick, in McCauley.

Miss Mary Callaway, teacher in the Sweetwater Schools, visited over the week-end with parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Callaway.

Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Short and daughter were luncheon guests in the home of the George Dardens Sunday. The Shorts are teachers in the McCauley School.

Miss Velma Lou Boyd, teacher in the Coleman Schools, was home over the week-end and had as her guests several friends who are also teachers in the Clyde Schools and Abilene Christian College, Abilene students.

Motored up to Hamlin Sunday afternoon to see the Hamlin Cardinals take the O'Brien baseball team by a score of 15 to 5. Brad Rowland Jr. was the winning pitcher for Hamlin having allowed only three hits in seven frames. O'Brien used two pitchers but the Hamlin hitters were "rocking" the apple and two of the long hit balls went over the fence. We understand that the Cardinals will play the Spurnine in the Hamlin Park Sunday afternoon, last Sunday.

Grain farmers are singing the blues in this part of the country, dry weather, sand storms and water hauling makes a fellow wonder where his summer wages went to.

Softball is getting strated once again in McCauley and the lighted field on the school ground will draw a lot of folks these long summer nights.

Mrs. Cleo Williams of Pampa will get The Hamlin Herald another year with the compliments of Mrs. Rufus Herbst.

McCauley School will close May 21. Nine seniors will graduate from this year's class. Patsey Maberry is valedictorian and Margaret Darden is salutatorian of the Senior class. Seniors who plan to enter college next fall are Charley Lee and Margaret Darden who will enroll in Hardin Simmons University, Abilene. Patsy Maberry will enroll in McMurry College, Abilene and Jo Ann Hendon will enroll in Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

High school annuals are out and are real good. One page of the annual was dedicated to Ed Mason who made the Gymnasium equipment possible which is appreciated not only by the student body but by the entire citizenship.

Mrs. Omar Prather left Monday to be at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Phillips, who is ill with pneumonia at her home in Monday.

O. C. Prather has returned from

Cottonseed Treatment Pays Off Well In Increased Yields, Better Quality

If Jones County cotton growers are wondering about the advantages of cottonseed treatment, E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of Texas A. & M. College, has the answers, declares County Agent H. C. Stanley, who submits the following notes to The Herald for passing on the Hamlin area cotton growers:

Cottonseed treatment is an inexpensive form of crop insurance that costs only a few cents a bushel of seed. It kills the disease germs on seed, protects seeds and seedlings from diseases which may be in the soil and gives a better stand of cotton.

Texas' worst cotton seedling killers are angular leaf spot and soreskin. In the black lands of Texas angular leaf spot ranks next to root rot as the No. 1 hazard in cotton production. It is found in nearly all parts of the state.

Angular leaf spot generally shows up first on the seed leaves, and if a damp spell sets in after the seedlings come up, lots of them will die unless the seed was chemically treated before planting. This disease can also destroy some of the early buds on cotton plants, and thereby may prevent growth of early fruiting branches. Result: A reduced yield. Angular leaf spot also carries through to the older cotton plants, where it appears as angular spots on the leaves and as bacterial rot on the bolls.

The other serious cotton disease causes brown spots on the plants either below or near the ground level. While many plants may recover from soreskin, they are often late in developing—again causing a reduced yield.

At the Temple agricultural experiment sub-station, fuzzy cottonseed treated with either two or five per cent ceresan, give 25 to 30 per cent better stands than untreated seed. "Cottonseed Treatment," can be obtained at the Extension Service at College Station, or from County Agent Stanley at Anson.

The plants had one-third to one-tenth less angular leaf spot infection, and made an average of over 50 pounds more lint per acre than the untreated seed. Over long periods, experiment station tests have shown that chemically treated seed give four-year average yield increases of 25 per cent at College Station, 10 per cent in the Brazos bottom near College Station, 15 per cent at Temple, and four per cent

Veterans' News

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for the column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Q.—After I have repaid the amount I borrowed under the G. I. Bill, is my loan guaranty privilege restored to its original amount?

A.—No. You may use the full amount of your loan rights only once.

Q.—Do the guaranty or insurance provisions of the G. I. Bill limit the total amount that I can borrow?

A.—No. The size of the loan depends on what the lender is willing to lend. The limitation is on the amount of the VA guaranty and not on the size of the loan.

Q.—I was refused an application for a loan by one lender and now

would like to know what I should do to get a guaranteed loan on a business venture?

A.—The VA regional office in your area might be able to put you in touch with a lender who makes G. I. loans.

Q.—May a veteran obtain a guaranteed loan to buy or establish a business if he is employed?

A.—Yes, if he plans to conduct the new business himself, either on a full-time or part-time basis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Duhan and children visited E. W. Moore in Santa Anna Sunday.

IN MISERY HALF THE TIME, BLESSES RETONGA

Suffered for Years From Gas On Stomach, Indigestion, Restlessness, Muscular Aches and Pains; Mother of Eight Wants Others to Know About Retonga

"No one knows better than my husband how much Retonga has helped me," declares Mrs. Ed D. Nunnelley, well-known resident of P. D. No. 2, Onatchee, Alabama, whose husband has farmed on his present homestead for 50 years. The mother of eight children, Mrs. Nunnelley gratefully states:

"I was in misery half the time from sour stomach and indigestion. I often felt like gas was pressing against my chest so hard I had to gasp for breath. I couldn't seem to sleep sound. I had to take strong purgatives like salts to get relief from sluggish elimination. I was on edge most of the time. Muscular aches and pains ran through me like darts. I felt so run-down I was cross with myself for complaining so much. I always got up feeling worse than when I went to bed.

"Retonga was truly a blessing and a relief to me. I eat anything now and my food seems to give me the strength and energy I need. I sleep fine and no longer depend on harsh laxatives for relief from sluggish bowels. I feel easy after meals and am not bothered with excessive gas. The muscular aches and pains are relieved, and I have regained much of my lost weight."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at WAGGONER DRUG STORE. (adv.)
